Ike Talks To Nation Wednesday Summit Collapse To Be Main Topic

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will go on television and radio Wednesday evening to report to the American people on collapse of the summit conference.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the president's 30-minute talk would start at 8 p.m. EDT.

In addition to the summit collapse, he said the talk also will deal with "the future aims and goals of the United States and, indeed, of its allies, and the free world."

The announcement on Eisenhower's plans came as he conferred at the White House with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter regarding the TV-radio report.

The President met with Herter almost immediately after returning from a week of rest at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

In response to questions, Hagerty said he knew of no plans for Eisenhower to address a joint session of Congress regarding the Paris debacle.

Eisenhower's broadcast talk will be carried live by all major radio networks and by the ABC and CBS television networks.

Hagerty said that at request of the White House, NBC-TV will carry the address starting at 10 p.m. EDT. The request was made, the press secretary added, so that those unable to view the telecast at 8 p.m. will have an opportunity to do so later.

Hagerty also announced that because Eisenhower will be going on the air Wednesday evening he will not hold a news conference this week. The President customarily meets with reporters on Wednesday morning.

Proper Method Used on Child, Fatum Declares

In a story Friday about the drowning of a Connelly child, The Freeman reported that oxygen equipment "ceased to function" as it was being used.

Frank Fatum of Fatum's Ambulance asked today for a correction.

He said that the ambulance reached the scene and that attendants began to administer artificial respiration in order to get the water out of the lungs of the little girl, Sabrina, 17-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Boler of 29 First Street.

Oxygen equipment on the ambulance was not used because it is not effective in a case of that kind, only providing a steady flow of oxygen. What is required, however, is a breathing action in which air is forced rhythmically into the lungs, thus expelling the water and restoring the respiratory process.

Gilbert Gray and Walter Fatum began artificial back pressure respiration on the child to force out the water. Frank Fatum reached the scene in his car a few minutes later and directed the operation.

An area rescue squad had arrived with a resuscitator, which forces air in and out of the lungs, but it failed to operate properly, it was reported.

Frank Fatum said mouth-to-mouth resuscitation was commenced and continued as the ambulance drove to Kingston Hospital where the child was pronounced dead.

Union Delegation Going to Russia To Study People

CHICAGO (AP)—Ten AFL-CIO leaders and a Teamsters Union official plan to visit the Soviet Union in July to learn more about its peoples and trade unionism there.

The month-long trip was announced Sunday night by Jack D. Spiegel, president of the United Shoe Workers Union, Chicago. He said the unionists were making the visit solely as individuals who wish to see for themselves what is going on in the Soviet Union.

The group said in a statement it felt that collapse of the summit conference in Paris last week should not defer the trip.

The leaders emphasized that they are not going as representatives of their unions and each would pay his own way. They also said they were not "Communists or Communist party followers, but independent thinkers."

Spiegel, head of a steering committee which accepted the invitation from V. Gershov, vice president of the Union of Soviet Societies for Friendship and Cultural Ties with Foreign Countries, said arrangements for the trip were made before the summit breakdown.

Buildings Fall in 9 Provinces Quakes in Chile Leaves An Estimated 350 Dead

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Two days of shattering earthquakes followed by giant tidal waves have left at least 350 persons dead or missing in south and central Chile and leveled buildings in nine provinces.

Aid was rushed from Latin American neighbors and U.S. bases in Panama.

A 24-foot high tidal wave surged over a small village near the south Chilean port of Ancud Sunday night. The Interior Ministry announced at least 130 persons were missing and presumed drowned.

James Dixon of Tampa, Fla., told his companions, David Lee Nelson, 29, Brooklyn, and William Russell Reynolds, 36, of Williamsburg, Va., both employed at the camp, that he was "going to take a swim," it was reported by the Ulster County sheriff's office. He leaped into the lake and failed to come up.

Across the river in Columbia County an 18-year-old Albany youth, employed as a kitchen helper in the Copake Lake Country Club, drowned in the lake after toppling from a canoe.

The body of Thomas E. Littleton was recovered by dragging operations within an hour after the mishap.

Sites for Water Works Expansion Viewed on Sunday

Sites being considered for possible future expansion of Kingston's water works facilities were among those visited Sunday by local officials and others on a tour of all major points from Mink Hollow to and through the city.

Among areas proposed for development of reservoir facilities was that at Yanketown Pond, not too far from the Cooper Lake supply.

Also slated for study as possible sites for future development were the upper Sawkill Creek area, the Ashokan Reservoir, through purchase from New York City, the possibility of using well supplies, and of taking water from the Hudson River.

National averages indicate the possibility of Kingston requiring additional sources of water supply at least within the next 10 to 15 years, and possibly sooner.

Sunday's tour began at the city hall at 9:30 a.m. The first stop was at the water department barn, Jansen Avenue and East O'Reilly Street where Fred Ahrens, maintenance foreman, assisted in showing department equipment.

The first stop after the group left the city was at the West Hurley dike where the city had prepared in the 1957 drought, to buy water from New York, but finally was not required to put the temporary system in use.

At Yanketown Pond

A stop was made in the Yanketown Pond area and by 10:45 a.m. the tour had reached the Cooper Lake area. After that visits were made to the Mink Hollow intake, Sawkill intake and watershed and reservoirs in the Zena-Woodstock areas.

Addison Short, with 44 years of service, is in charge of two of the reservoirs and connecting conduits. At the filter plant, William Colsten explained operations. Clifford Carnright is in charge of maintenance and sanitary patrol and in-

Might Be Sen. Javits If Rocky Declines VP

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York is a possibility for the Republican vice presidential nomination provided New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller declines, a Republican senator says.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky said Saturday that Rockefeller was the "obvious choice" but it was important to have a national ticket representing the two states with the most population—New York and California. The Republicans, he said, must carry these states to win.

Javits, meanwhile, is boosting Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, for the vice presidential nomination.

In a radio-TV program taped for New York stations, Javits said Sunday night in Washington he thought the switch of the spotlight from the collapsed summit conference to the United Nations will "bring Cabot Lodge to the fore as a possibility for vice president."

Cooper listed as other possible candidates for the vice presidential nomination New York Sen. Kenneth Keating and Kentucky Sen. Thruston B. Morton, the Republican national chairman.

Morton has said his party position would prevent him from accepting the nomination.

Rockefeller has said he would not accept the nomination. The governor said recently he would not attend the Republican national convention lest his presence lead delegates to believe he was available for the vice presidential nomination.

Cooper waved aside the Rockefeller statements with the comment: "We won't know whether he will accept or not until the convention."

2 Drown In Area on Weekend Probing Incident At Esopus Lake

There were two drownings in the area during the weekend, one at Esopus Lake, Ulster Park, where a 64-year-old Florida man employed at Camp Chi-Wan-Da leaped from a boat although he was reportedly unable to swim.

James Dixon of Tampa, Fla., told his companions, David Lee Nelson, 29, Brooklyn, and William Russell Reynolds, 36, of Williamsburg, Va., both employed at the camp, that he was "going to take a swim," it was reported by the Ulster County sheriff's office. He leaped into the lake and failed to come up.

Across the river in Columbia County an 18-year-old Albany youth, employed as a kitchen helper in the Copake Lake Country Club, drowned in the lake after toppling from a canoe.

The body of Thomas E. Littleton was recovered by dragging operations within an hour after the mishap.

More Quakes Occur

Another series of quakes jolted the battered area for the second straight day, boosting the death count from tremors alone to 220. Officials reported another 1,500 injured. Casualty figures were expected to mount as wrecked communications were restored.

The quake was Chile's worst since 1939, when more than 20,000 persons perished in the same area.

Official reports said the tidal wave near Ancud washed away 100 villagers and sank a boat carrying 30 passengers. None of the bodies have been recovered.

Hit By Hot Sea Water

A tidal wave of hot sea water was reported to have hit Lebu, 285 miles south of Santiago, and amateur radio messages predicted a heavy toll.

The port of Arauco, several miles below Lebu, also sent out a distress call after it was struck by a 10-foot wave.

The U.S. Coast Guard issued a tidal wave alert for the California coast as a result of tides generated by the Chilean quakes. Coast Guard stations in Oregon and Washington also were alerted.

In Honolulu, the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey reported a tidal wave might reach the Hawaiian islands, but did not issue an alert.

Tremors Rock Area

Tremors Sunday rocked the provinces of Concepcion, Nuble, Arauco, Biobio, Malleco, Cautin, Valdivia, Llanquihue and Chilo.

Two tremors shook Santiago, a city of two million, sending residents fleeing into the streets, but no damage occurred.

Earth shocks shook Argentina from the Andes to the Atlantic Sunday afternoon, but no casualties were reported. Some property damage was reported in Esquel, Chubut province, and tall buildings swayed in Buenos Aires.

The Coast and Geodetic Survey in Washington said a series of shocks recorded Sunday was so strong "we can't separate one from the other on the recorder."

U.S. Ambassador Walter Howe told Chilean authorities the United States would fly medical supplies and clothing from Panama.

The Peruvian government ordered a state of emergency in Malleco to stem rising panic. The southern province was put under military command.

MIG Jet Fighter Violates Danish Border Is Report

ROEDBY, Denmark (AP)—A MIG17 jet fighter violated the Danish border today, passing over a home guard shooting range in south Denmark less than 1,000 yards above the ground.

A home guard officer disclosed at the same time that another MIG fighter was observed over that general area at about the same time an American C47 Air Force plane passed over en route from Copenhagen to Hamburg last Friday before making an emergency landing in Communist East Germany, some 50 miles across the Baltic.

He said he was unable to tell whether the planes were Soviet or Polish. Poland is just a few minutes jet flying distance from the Danish island of Lolland, where the planes were observed.

Nixon Is Trying To Rally GOP on Foreign Aid Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon is trying to rally support for the administration's foreign aid program among some of his own party members in Congress.

He sent a letter Monday to Republican members of the House Appropriations Committee, who don't always share the administration's view that large expenditures are needed for foreign aid.

He told Rep. John Taber (R-N.Y.) and other GOP representatives he is convinced any large cut in foreign aid would be "regarded by the world as a headlong retreat by our country, either as an abandonment of collective security or as a withdrawal from

School Budgets Are Rejected In Only Six of 800 Districts

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Budgets were rejected in only six of an estimated 800 school districts in the state that put spending programs to a vote this month.

In May of last year, voters turned down 20 budgets.

The State Education Department, in announcing the figures Sunday, drew no conclusions. However, it said a study of last year's votes showed districts with enrollments of more than 1,500 pupils had a more difficult time with their budgets than did smaller districts.

About three-quarters of the districts in the state held budget votes in May. The remainder will ballot in June or July.

Education boards whose budget are turned down may call another vote on the same budget or present revised spending figures.

If the voters refuse to approve a budget, the district must operate on a contingency basis, under which it may spend only for expenses, such as teachers' salaries, that are mandated by law. Transportation, textbooks and extracurricular activities would be dropped.

School districts that rejected budgets this month and their budget totals:

Brittonkill Central School, Rensselaer County, $667,216; Mount Kisco Central School, Westchester County, $3,159,034; William Floyd Union Free School, Suffolk County, $1,230,000; Hyde Park Central School, Dutchess County, $2,179,110; Pine Plains Central School, Dutchess County, $644,225; and Sloan School, Erie County, $1,207,464.

The departments study covered the 34 districts that rejected budgets in 1959 and 34 matching districts that had no record of budget or bond-referendum failure.

Pastor of Fair Street Reformed Called Upstate

The Rev. J. Dean Dykstra, who has served as minister at the Fair Street Reformed Church of Kingston for the past 17 years, has been called by the Consistory of the First Reformed Church of Schenectady to Senior Minister of that church.

Notice of his decision to accept the call to the Schenectady church was presented at a special meeting of the Fair Street Reformed Church consistory Sunday afternoon.

The First Reformed Church of Schenectady, one of the oldest churches in the denomination, was founded before 1674, and is the mother church of Union College. Although Union College was not a denominational school, it was founded by consistory in 1785. The First Reformed Church of Schenectady is noted for its program of Christian education, having one of the largest church schools and youth programs in the Dutch Reformed Church.

The Rev. Clark V. Poling, one of the four chaplains who drowned in the torpedoing of "Dorchester," was pastor of this church at the time of his death in 1943.

The First Reformed Church of Schenectady has a membership of well over 1,000, in the annual report for the church in January 1959, the membership was 1181.

Since accepting a call to the Fair Street Reformed Church of Kingston in 1943, the Rev. J. (Continued on Page 6, Col. 7)

To Check Top-Level Decisions

Two Separate Senate Probes Shaping on U2

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two separate Senate probes of the U2 spy plane incident shaped up today after a week of cautious political sparring over the collapse of the summit conference.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said over the weekend he thinks his committee should investigate events leading up to the summit debacle.

Johnson Gives Blessing

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas immediately gave his blessing to the probe. "There's no better way to plan the future than to look at the mistakes of the past," he said.

Earlier Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) had announced that his policy machinery studying committee, starting closed door hearings Tuesday, would look into the spy plane incident "as it relates to the adequacy of the decision-making process at the top level of government."

During the past week Johnson and other Democratic leaders, in an effort to preserve national unity behind the President, had steered clear of direct criticism.

Even as he endorsed Fulbright's probe, Johnson said at Oklahoma City "I don't want to emphasize the mistakes because 20-20 hindsight is always easier than 20-20 foresight."

The Democratic Advisory Council issued a statement criticizing President Eisenhower for his handling of recent events and said U.S. policies played into the hands of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"The administration cannot prevent free and open discussion of our international affairs," said Democratic National Chairman (Continued on Page 6, Col. 6)

May Widen East-West Big Rift

Gromyko, Lodge Set for Council

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., AP—The United States and the Soviet Union squared off today for a debate on espionage which appeared likely to aggravate still further the East-West rift that wrecked last week's summit conference.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, fresh from the Paris Big Four meeting, was reported ready to speak for at least an hour before the 11-nation Security Council in support of the Kremlin's charge that U.S. spy flights are a threat to peace.

Chief U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge said he was confident he could deflate the Soviet complaint. He was expected to contend that espionage is as old as history, that it is carried on by the Soviet Union and that it is no threat to peace.

Commands Attention

Because of the part the U.S. intelligence flights played in the breakup of the summit conference, the council debate commanded unusual attention. The full proceedings would be broadcast by the Voice of America. This included a live broadcast beamed at the Soviet Union.

The Soviet foreign minister planned to press for council condemnation of such flights as that of the U2 spy plane downed on Soviet territory May 1.

He also demanded that they be stopped, although President Eisenhower announced at the summit conference the flights had been stopped and would not be resumed.

Sees Support Lacking

Diplomats at the U.N. agreed, however, that Gromyko would find little support for his condemnation proposal. The general belief was that only the Soviet Union and Communists Poland would vote for such a resolution, which requires seven affirmative votes for passage.

Behind the scenes the council president for May, Sir Claude Corea of Ceylon, was reported working with other small-power members, seeking a resolution that might help improve U.S.-Soviet relations.

It also was reported that Corea was working on a proposal calling on all countries to make no unauthorized flights over the territory of another nation, but this was denied.

Lodge's strategy was not disclosed in advance. He returned to days of consultations in Washington with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

It was assumed that Lodge would devote his main effort to trying to show that the Soviet Union is as guilty of espionage as the United States. One U.S. source said he undoubtedly would cite as few cases.

Lodge has said that "at the proper time" the United States will present a proposal for a U.N. aerial surveillance system to guard against surprise attack. U.S. officials said, however, he wanted to hold off until after the Soviet complaint has been dealt with.

Squabble Over Check Sees Man Facing Murder

WALTON, N. Y. (AP)—An unemployed man was shot to death late Sunday night, and an unemployed brother-in-law was charged today with the slaying.

An argument over a monthly welfare check led to the shooting of Olin N. McClenon, 58, by Howard S. Bowker, 54, police said.

The shooting occurred in the house where they lived. Both were on relief.

Bowker, a former lumberman, waived examination on a first-degree murder charge at his arraignment before Police Justice John J. Warner and was held in Delaware County jail, pending grand jury action.

Police said the weapon was a .12-gauge shotgun. The body was found on the living-room floor.

Summoned by a neighbor, police found Bowker sitting at a kitchen table and staring into space.

"Well, I've been expecting you and I'm sorry," he was quoted as saying.

Ask Stiffer Penalty To Prevent Gambling

NEW YORK (AP)—The State Investigation Commission says tougher police action and stiffer sentences are the best answer to professional gambling.

The agency recommended Sunday that professional gamblers, said to take 250 million dollars a year in Upstate New York alone, be compelled by grand juries to disclose the secrets of their racket.

It also suggested that periodic police reports on suspected gambling activity be exchanged between counties and cities, and urged establishment of a police academy open to all law officers in the state.

These recommendations were among proposals that grew out of the commission's recent hearings into illegal gambling and ways to control it.

One proposal was for sterner background appraisals of gamblers taken before judges.

"Persistent violators of the gambling laws should be given heavy fines and jail sentences," said the commission.

It also recommended that the State Tax Department consider checking professional gamblers for possible violation of state income tax laws.

The commission called for more grand jury investigations, better police files on known gamblers, wider use of State Police and the end of allowing professional gamblers to plead guilty to reduced charges.

It suggested federal laws permitting the use of court-authorized wiretaps and disallowing income tax purposes any business expenses for illegal purposes.

The commission urged state legislation to ban transmission of gambling information, to permit padlocking of places where gambling had been carried on and allow the forfeiture of all money found in gambling places or on anyone there.

The public was asked not to support syndicated gambling by betting with bookies.

"However unwitting" said the commission, "a $2 bet with a bookie is a direct contribution to the underworld."

Mahoney Calling Strategy Parley About Election

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Walter J. Mahoney today called a meeting of Republican state senators and Senate candidates to map strategy for the November election.

The meeting will be June 13 in New York City (Hotel Roosevelt, Noon).

Mahoney said in a statement announcing the meeting that it was "a matter of prime importance for the continued benefit of all the people that Republican majorities be maintained in both houses of the Legislature."

The GOP leader also said the Republicans should exert every effort to increase those majorities.

Damaging Waves Due to Shocks. Not to Any Tide

NEW YORK (AP)—Destructive waves caused by earthquakes, submarine landslides or volcanic eruptions beneath the sea occasionally inundate low-lying coastal areas and cause enormous damage.

Such waves are popularly known as "tidal waves," although they have nothing in common with the tides. They are shock waves carried through water and a kind of reflex which may result from a crustal disturbance on land or in the sea.

Seismologists say such waves are more correctly designated by their Japanese name, tsunami, or the term seismic sea wave.

Tsunamis quickly lose height and become exceedingly long, sometimes up to 500 miles, and in the open sea they can be observed only in the immediate vicinity of their origin. Their period may lie between 10 minutes and 60 minutes.

The tsunami is usually led by a small rise, followed by a distinct trough. On shore the arrival is first noticed by a fall in the sea level for a number of minutes, as if there were an abnormally low tide, followed by a rapid rise to levels far exceeding the high-tide level.

One of the most disastrous tsunamis in history occurred June 15, 1896, in the Sanriku district of Japan. The death toll from the resulting flood was 27,000.

Know Their Chickens

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—At Oklahoma State University, the students almost can count their chickens before they hatch. In a record Southern poultry judging contest, OSU students racked up 4,092 of a possible 4,500 points to take team honors over teams from eight other colleges and universities. The OSU judges won six of eight individual and team classifications.

ROSENDALE POPPY SALE — Mayor John W. Vaughn of the village of Rosendale buys a poppy from Jo Anne Mulligan, junior auxiliary member of Rosendale-Tillson Post 1219, American Legion. The annual sale will continue through Memorial Day. Mrs. Walter Van Gasbeck, right, is chairman of the drive. Poppies are made by veterans in hospitals and purchased for sale by the American Legion Auxiliary. Proceeds of the sale are used for veterans and their families.

Rosendale, Tillson News Officers Named At St. Peter's School Meeting

Named president of the St. Peter's School Association at the May meeting was Norman Guenther.

Other officers are Mrs. Herman Walsh, vice president; Mrs. Nicholas Pozzello, secretary, and Albert Blakely, treasurer.

Officers will serve for two-year terms. Sister Mary Constance of the Dominican Sisters of Newburgh was present at the May meeting of the association. She outlined the reasons for a parochial school and gave an insight into the educational training necessary for a Sister to come to the school. The Sisters are now preparing to build a new novitiate and school at Newburgh, to replace buildings which have been declared unsafe.

A committee consisting of Carl Mihm, Miss Florence Buckley, and the Mmes. Arthur Mulligan, Walsh, Peter Mathews and Paul Purcell will meet in the school hall at 8 p. m. Wednesday to discuss plans for a donation toward the Building Fund.

Plans for the school outing to be held in June were accepted. The children of grades 5-8 will take a tour of the Century Cement plant and the mushroom caves. The 1-4 grades will attend a movie in the school in the morning. The afternoon program will include games and other supervised activities at Sportsman's Park for the entire school. The communion breakfast committee reported that all the necessary arrangements for the graduates had been made.

The next meeting will be held in the school hall at 8 p. m. Wednesday, June 15.

Guild Circles Continue Study

Members of the Dorcas Circle, meeting at the home of Mrs. Herbert Burhans, participated in a discussion of Psalms 29 and 104 under the guidance of Mrs. Robert Grupe, Spiritual Life Secretary. Mrs. Wilfred Doolittle reported that she and Mrs. George Mollenhauer had represented the Classis of Ulster at the spring conference and luncheon at Warwick Estates. It was announced that the food basket is at the home of Mrs. Bertrand Burr, circle chairman. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Kimer on June 21.

Mrs. Ferdinand Fiedler, spiritual secretary, led the discussion of Chapter 5 in the Hymnbook of the Ages at the Naomi Circle meeting held at the home of Mrs. Henry Ritter. Mrs. Harrison Cornish, education secretary, led a discussion on Africa and the "Drop Out Tragedy" relating to the question of whether or not teen-agers should be made to attend high school and college. The circle, to date, has realized, through its own efforts, $17 on turn-in coupons and reports from other circles will be made soon. Members of the circle offered to assist at the Ulster County Infirmary and will send discarded greeting cards to India for distribution. The closing prayer was given by Mrs. Ritter and Mrs. Alexander Maines, circle chairman, conducted the meeting.

Members of the Ruth Circle participated in a discussion of Chapter Three in the "Hymnbook of the Ages," under the leadership of Spiritual Life Secretary Mrs. Albert Schneider. Each member was requested to collect at least ten recipes for inclusion in the forthcoming Guild cookbook prior to June 30. Mrs. George Winters was hostess for the meeting which was conducted by Mrs. Robert Demarest in the absence of Mrs. Richard Weir, circle chairman. The next meeting will be on Tuesday, June 21 at the home of Mrs. James Conley, Rosendale.

Scientist, Inventor Dies

PARIS (AP) — George Claude, French scientist and inventor whose discoveries made possible the neon light, died today. He was 90.

Claude was also the scientist primarily responsible for the development of poison gases used by the French in World War I. Claude was found guilty of collaborating with the Germans during World War II and condemned to life imprisonment. But even in prison he continued his research work.

On the plea of man of France's most distinguished scholars and scientists, he was given provisional liberty Jan. 2, 1950.

If you are lucky enough to find fresh fish in your market, you'll find it is delightful added to potato salad, potato soup, stuffed eggs or chicken broth.

Why We Say--

5-23 CANADA

COLLECTION OF HUTS: According to a popular theory it was through that when the Frenchman Cartier explored the North, Indian guides pointed out huts or lodges as "Kanata," an Indian word for hut. The explorer believed it was the name of the country and passed it on to others who came later. The story has not been verified but it is reasonably certain that the word Canada is taken from the Indian word meaning a collection of huts.

Chicago Goes Legit

CHICAGO (AP) — For the first time in several decades Chicago is to have a new legitimate theater. The second floor of the two-story theater will be a 300-seat playhouse. The first floor will be a salon with sort of a night club set-up to provide entertainment, dancing and refreshments. A $300,000 playhouse to be called The Happy Medium, its opening is scheduled for June 27. The first show will be an original musical revue.

To Lay Pavement

Pavement is due to be laid this week on the Fair Street block between Pearl and Main Streets. Preliminary work was under way last week and traffic has been detouring the area.

8 Men Are Held As Game Raided

CORTLAND, N. Y. (AP) — Six city police raided what they said was a poker game early today, confiscated $300 and arrested eight men on gambling charges. Three of the men live in Ithaca, the others in Cortland. Money was thrown about the apartment, police said, when they broke in shortly before 1 a. m. Twenty decks of cards and a gambling table were confiscated along with the money.

Benjamin Mastromardi, Jr., 35, who police said owned the house, was charged with keeping a gambling and betting establishment. He was released on $500 bail for arraignment later.

The others were released on $250 bail each on charges of being common gamblers.

Charles F. Solomon, 50, of Ithaca, and Bartolo L. Spano, 47, of Ithaca, pleaded innocent when arraigned before City Judge Albert C. Comand. Their cases were adjourned to June 7.

The others to be arraigned later, were:

Joseph J. Daghigha, 37, of the Town of Varna, outside Ithaca, and Joseph Musenga, 36, James O. Cinquanti, 42, W. Milton Stout, 45, and Anthony D'Loisio, 35, all of Cortland.

Johnson Proposes Satellite View Of World for U.S.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Sen. Lyndon Johnson proposed a crash program for the development of a reconnaissance satellite Sunday so the United States can view the world from a TV beam.

Johnson, the Senate majority leader from Texas, later told the graduating class of Oklahoma City University, "We don't want a cloak and dagger America."

But he said a reconnaissance satellite would "bring immediately into being the President's open skies program. We would share it with other nations in the United Nations."

The senator said during a telecast from his home of the CBS program "Face the Nation" would announce whether he was a presidential candidate at the end of the current session of Congress. In answer to a question he said he felt he should put his majority leadership duties ahead of campaigning. He said he believed Sen. John Kennedy's primary election victories in several states were not as important nationally, as far as the Democrats were concerned, as some people indicate.

Johnson also said on the program both the United States and Russia are at work on a reconnaissance satellite, but this country's program is not on an emergency basis.

"We should spare no dollar, no energy and no talent in order that we might realize it at the earliest possible date," he said.

Rogers Is Calling For Vote Records In Rights Check

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers today called for the voting registration records of four southern counties to determine whether there is discrimination against eligible Negroes. Acting under the 1960 civil rights act, Rogers requested election officials in Montgomery County, Ala.; Early County, Ga.; Ouachita and East Feliciana parishes, La., to make their records available for FBI inspection. This was the attorney general's second move of this kind. Rogers made first use of the new Civil Rights Act on May 9 by calling for the registration records in McCormack County, S.C.; Webster County, Ga.; Wilcox County, Ala.; and East Carroll Parish, La.

Mid-Town Traffic Signal

A second section of modernizing a mid-town traffic signal is due to be finished this week. Installation of mast and signals was finished late last week at Cornell Street and Broadway, and that to be completed is on the Cedar Street side. The lights have a 14-foot clearance as required by state regulation.

I AM THE WANT AD

By Harry Gwaltney

My MISSION is to serve humanity without regard to creed or position or time or place • I herald the arrival of the new born, I serve them through life and announce their demise • I am the servant of the poor, the commissioner of the rich • With each sunrise and each sunset I go forth with new missions to perform • Each new day new thousands rely upon me to fill their needs and satisfy their wants • I search out all manner of things for all manner of persons • I find the castle for the newlyweds, a home for those grown weary and aged • I find a business for a future giant of industry and a little shop for a widow's livelihood • I alter the course of millions, and many times the future of maid and man is of my determination • I recover the lost pets of weeping children, and restore lost persons to anxious friends • I sing the praise of artisans, proclaim the skill of craftsmen • I find labor for the man of brawn as well as opportunity for trained and active minds • I am the Fabled Dwarfs, Aladdin's Lamp and the Magic Wand of modern times • Millions in trade are consummated through me, yet the value of my service is not to be measured in silver or gold • Even rogues avail themselves of my power and filch from those who trust me • I am an index of trends, a barometer of commerce, a harbinger of coming events • I am a by-word in countless thousands of homes, the first thought in many times of need • My speed of action, the sureness of my success, matches the completeness of my public acceptance • Within my lines are the sad stories and the glad stories of everyday living that goes to make up life • I perform in my own individual way and for me there is no substitute • No other medium, no other method, plan, or scheme can duplicate my service • In multiple, I become the world's greatest market of services and things • I am born of the people and have lived and grown by their insistence and over the protests of those who held my destiny • I have become an institution of service big enough and broad enough to do anything for anybody at any time—I AM THE WANT AD!

Picketing Still Goes on at Utica Doeskin Plant

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Picketing continued today at the Doeskin Products Inc. plant here where approximately 40 shippers and receivers seek company recognition of the Teamsters Union.

The picketing began Friday, the same day the company signed a two-year contract with the United Papermakers and Paperworkers Union.

Members of the Papermakers Union crossed the lines at the Utica plant.

The company described the picketing as illegal.

Rex E. Daggert, an international vice president of the Papermakers Union, termed the action "an illegal raid against a portion of an organized plant."

Doeskin, which employs 220 persons in its Utica plant and 83 at its nearby Clayville plant, shut down the Clayville operation because truckers refused to haul raw paper to the Utica plant. The company manufactures tissue products.

The two-year contract with the Papermakers Union, which replaced one that would have expired May 31, provided for an immediate general increase of five cents an hour and two cents in insurance benefits. The pact grants an eight-cent hourly boost May 31, 1961.

Wage scales under the old contract ranged from $1.78 to $2.70 an hour.

Windsor Cleans Up After Flash Flood

WINDSOR, N.Y. (AP) — Homeowners and highway workers cleaned up today after a flash flood blocked roads and endangered houses in a small section of the Susquehanna River Valley.

Roads on both sides of the river between this Broome County village and the Pennsylvania state line, about five miles away, were blocked when water rushed down from hillsides after a four inch rainfall in 4½ hours Saturday night.

One farm house was damaged. The water, gravel and sludge reached a depth of 3 feet at some points on the roads.

Andrew Jackson was constantly urged by his wife to join the church. Finally he talked to a parson about such a step. The minister asked: "General, can you forgive your enemies?" With an explosive shout "Old Hickory" replied: "By the Eternal, I am not THAT old yet!"

New York State Man Killed in San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Franklin E. McDonald, 21, of Gouverneur, N.Y., was one of three sailors killed Saturday when an automobile smashed into an embankment.

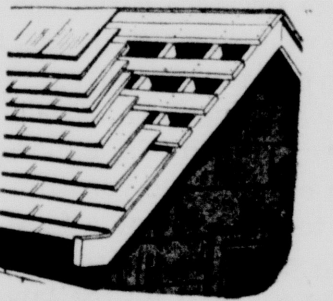

Police said the car went out of control at high speed.

The other dead were: Billy Earl Boiin, 22, of Slocumb, Ala., and James W. Augenstein, 19, of Haurgan, Mont.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MAY 23, 1960

FALSE ALARMS

Three false alarms were sounded last week in this city. One alarm drew out eight pieces of apparatus from Central and Wiltwyck station, the Wicks, Excelsior and Wiltwyck volunteer companies.

The turning in of a false fire alarm is a very serious offense and the person who perpetrates such an act is a menace to the general public.

There always is the ever present danger of an accident that may cost someone his life when the fire department responds. It also costs the taxpayers money in wear and tear on equipment as well as fuel used.

Any person whose mentality is at such a low ebb that he can think of nothing better to do than ring a false fire alarm, if apprehended, should receive the limit in penalties imposed by the law. Citizens should cooperate with the fire and police departments and report suspicious characters loitering around fire alarm boxes.

EVALUATION

For months many top Democrats have been both publicly and privately bemoaning the fact that President Eisenhower and the Republican party seemed to have what they called the "peace issue" locked up for 1960.

The blowup engineered at the summit by Soviet Premier Khrushchev over the U-2 spy plane affair has suddenly injected an important new element into this year's political equation.

Nevertheless, at this stage it would be entirely too glib and facile to assert, as some may wish to do, that this explosion robs the Republicans of peace as a persuasive election factor.

True enough, Khrushchev's hard snubs and insults against the President suggest he is no longer willing to deal with him in a full-scale summit meeting, but prefers to await his successor next January.

If he clings to this position, the Soviet leader thus may deny Eisenhower any chance of translating his peace hopes into solid agreements in the remaining eight months of his regime. Unquestionably, this would be a blow to the President's fondest designs.

But it will not necessarily weaken or destroy the trust most Americans still seem to vest in the President on the issue of peace. Khrushchev's verbal violence at Paris served only to persuade many that the summit probably would not have achieved anything in the best of circumstances.

Consequently, the Democrats have to weigh the new element with extreme care. Brashly partisan criticisms could sound "pro-Khrushchev" to some voters.

Already some key Democrats have recognized this. Their statements on the crisis are tempered to avoid the sharply partisan line.

Their problem would have been different if Khrushchev had not demanded that Eisenhower and the United States grovel in apology. But no American politician can say anything which seems by the remotest stretch to endorse Khrushchev's demands.

This does not mean that during the fall campaign the spy-plane and summit crises will be totally barred from political debate. Even if the Democrats solemnly resolved to bar these matters, they probably could not hold to that resolve.

But they are bound to conclude that the conduct of foreign affairs lies at the very heart of the question as to which man and which party should occupy the White House from 1961 on.

Nevertheless, they will always be under some restraint. Partisanship has sharp limits in time of peril. And they can see already that the debacle at Paris has not ended Eisenhower's identity with world hopes for peace.

A proposed New York state insurance plan would raise rates for accident repeaters. That seems worth repeating in all states.

'These Days'

KHRUSHCHEV'S DICTATION

Nikita Khrushchev is not an American citizen but he wants to run the American election. He would, for some reason, prefer to have someone like Adlai Stevenson as President. Khrushchev would like to control both the Republican and Democratic conventions. He is opposed to Richard Nixon as President of the United States. Nixon in Moscow had defended his country and his civilization and gave Khrushchev an intellectual trouncing.

On several occasions, Khrushchev went out of his way to declare his opposition to Nixon. These are remarks by Nikita Khrushchev, interfering in an American election — an intolerable impudence.

"I am afraid that if Mr. Nixon is instructed to hold these negotiations (Summit Conference), a situation might arise resembling the one of which the people say: 'To leave the cabbage to the care of the goat.'" (May 5, 1960).

"Therefore, we think that some time should be allowed to elapse so that the questions that have arisen should settle and so that those responsible for the determining of the policies of a country would analyze what kind of responsibility they placed upon themselves, having declared an aggressive course in their relations with the Soviet Union and other Socialist countries. Therefore, we would think that there is no better way out than to postpone the conference of the heads of government for approximately six to eight months." (May 16, 1960).

The last time that a foreign government attempted to interfere in American politics was when Citizen Genet, who was the Minister of France to the United States, appointed in 1792, tried to force the United States to make war on Great Britain in support of the French revolutionary government. George Washington demanded that Genet mind his own business and had him dismissed. Genet was afraid to go back to France, settled in New York State, where he died on July 14, 1834.

Khrushchev's megalomania is so far advanced that he apparently believes that the American people will accept his choice for President of the United States. All Khrushchev needs to do is to say which of the candidates he favors and that man will be politically dead in this country.

Nelson Rockefeller, for some reason or other, believes that he has been designed by Providence to be President of the United States. Several months ago he made a trip about the country to make it possible for Republicans to get acquainted with him. The Republicans did not take too kindly to his excitement over his candidacy and he withdrew therefrom.

However, always when a man holds high position and possesses great wealth, he is surrounded by sycophants and so-called friends who tell him how great and noble he is and how the country would perish without him. Given a particular psychological complex, such a person cannot tolerate an opposite opinion. Therefore Nelson Rockefeller seems to have become convinced that he alone is worthy of the Republican nomination; that he alone can defeat whomsoever the Democrats will nominate; and that he alone can meet the crisis which Khrushchev is preparing for the United States.

Rockefeller is now organizing a blitz after the fashion of Wendell Willkie. It is to be a tornado. As a matter of fact, a meeting of the New York State Republican politicians has been called for Wednesday to inaugurate this exciting escapade. And it is expected in the Rockefeller camp that Nixon will just fold up and die in the presence of the blitz.

There must be a conspiracy among the Democrats to favor Nelson Rockefeller. Two very competent Democratic politicians told me recently that the Republicans will nominate Nelson Rockefeller. They seemed very cheerful about it. The Democrats would be.

Richard Nixon had better begin campaigning hard, if he wants to be elected. On the one hand, he is being opposed by Nikita Khrushchev who has a candidate of his own; on the other, he has Nelson Rockefeller sniping at him, putting stumbling blocks in his way, and keeping a tight rein on the Republican delegation from New York State. The big mistake that Rockefeller is making is one that every experienced politician can advise him is stupid: If Rockefeller waits until 1964 or 1968, he is likely to be around to work for his nomination. He might have a chance. Should he push Nixon out in 1960 and be defeated, he will be the dearest politician ever seen. (Copyright, 1960, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Treat Physical Ailment and Mental Distress It Causes

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

"Please help me," writes a mother. "My daughter is 35 and she has a rather large nose. She has used a lot of make-up on it and now she is starting to get red veins. She uses so much make-up she is closing the pores and making it worse."

"She has stopped work and won't go out of the house. I am afraid she will commit suicide. She was to have been married three years ago but she broke off her engagement."

"Please, doctor, could she go to a plastic surgeon and have skin grafted over her nose? Please help."

This is indeed tragic. Under these circumstances it is difficult to know whether the young lady's basic problem is physical or mental. If the mother's version is correct then it is possible that something could be done for the daughter's condition through plastic surgery.

(The corresponding secretary of the American Board of Plastic Surgery is Estelle E. Hillerich, 4647 Pershing Avenue, St. Louis 8, Mo. She could give the names of members near to the writer of this letter.)

If, on the other hand, the young lady's problem is basically mental, then surgery without mental treatment could be harmful.

If the nose condition were corrected without a corresponding improvement of the life attitude, her depression might become still more profound, with disastrous consequences.

A CANADIAN READER, whose leg was amputated just above the knee when it became gangrenous after having been frostbitten, inquires about Russian reports of operations in which parts of the body were successfully grafted from one to another animal.

He states that he gets around well with his artificial limb and without the aid of crutches or canes but is hopeful that the way has been cleared for successful grafting of "human limbs from one person to another."

I am sorry to have to shatter our correspondent's hopes. But modern surgery is a long way from any such achievement.

It is possible to graft human skin and to transfuse human blood under very special conditions. And, on a very few occasions, a kidney has been removed from one identical twin and transplanted in the other. Indeed the French have recently reported a single transplant from one non-identical twin to the other.

With these very few exceptions, however, it has not been possible to graft human organs or limbs and to have these grafts survive and function in the human recipient.

It is one thing to graft an organ and quite another to have the graft survive and function.

Dear Reader: Dr. Hyman appreciates your comments and questions but regrets that the heavy volume of his mail doesn't permit him to answer each individual letter or post card. However, he will comment in columns like the above upon matters of general or unusual interest.

Washington News

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Obstacles are arising over the proposed exchange of pilot Francis G. Powers—who bailed out of his U-2 reconnaissance plane before it crashed in Russia—for Col. Rudolph Ivanovich Abel, convicted Soviet spy now serving 30 years in the United States.

Vice President Nixon has given his blessing to this proposal. Possibilities are being explored by State Department. But so far no representatives of the American Embassy in Moscow have been permitted to interview him.

His father, Oliver W. Powers of Pound, Va., will be granted a U. S. passport if he desires to go to Russia to aid his son. But there's no assurance he could get a visa.

Little hope is held for Powers' release before a public trial which would give the Communists maximum propaganda.

THE EXCHANGE WOULD BE A GOOD ONE from our point of view, if it brings Powers out alive. But in Russian eyes it might not be so good.

To surrender Powers in exchange for Abel would be an admission that the latter is a Russian and that he was actually engaged in spying.

From the time of his arrest in August 1957 to his trial, conviction and sentencing three months later, Abel never admitted he was a Russian citizen. He pleaded not guilty to all charges of espionage. He did not testify in his own behalf. The Russian Embassy and its consulate in New York made no moves to free him on bail. No witnesses were produced to testify for him.

In the traditions of the best spy fiction, he kept his mouth shut.

shut. In the tough discipline of the dedicated Communist agent, he would normally finish out his sentence as a man without a country.

THERE IS ONLY ONE CASE ON RECORD of an attempt to exchange prisoners with the Russians and it was a fiasco. Central figure was Gail Badalovich Ovakimian, who headed a Russian spy ring in the U. S. and Canada for nearly ten years prior to World War 2.

He was arrested by the FBI in May 1941 as he was preparing to leave New York for Vladivostok via the Panama Canal on a ship chartered to Amtorg Trading Co.

Russian officials came to his rescue. They insisted he was a Soviet government official entitled to diplomatic immunity. He was released on $25,000 bail. Never brought to trial, he was allowed to leave the U. S.

One condition was that in exchange, the Soviet government would release three U. S. citizens under arrest, permitting them to return to the U. S. In addition, the Russians said they would give exit visas to three others not under arrest but wanting to leave.

THE GENEROSITY OF THIS OFFER came as something of a surprise. But the way it turned out, as reported by the House Un-American Activities Committee, is that only three of the six ever got to America.

Those were Dr. Michael Denisen, accused of being a bourgeois capitalist; and the Russian-born wives of two Russian-born naturalized American correspondents who married them in Moscow, Robert Magidoff and Hermann Habicht.

One of the three who never made it to America was Norman Waghshal, a minor, born in Brooklyn but taken to Poland by his parents just before the war.

A Chamber of Commerce membership drive was under way.

The other two were Wasyl Cisicki and Dr. Witold Putkowski, American citizens arrested in Poland in 1939.

This part of Spy Ovakimian's ransom was never paid as is true of many other Russian debts to this country.

Questions - - Answers

Q—In the Marine Corps hymn, to what do the opening lines, "From the Halls of Montezuma," refer?

A—Tradition has it that the lines referred to "the Halls of Montezuma" in Mexico City where, on September 14, 1847, the Marines had taken over guard, thus signaling the end of the Mexican War.

Q—What three countries are the major competitors to the United States in the export of wheat?

A—Argentina, Canada and Australia.

Q—Where is the burial place of Mrs. Ulysses S. Grant?

A—She is buried beside General Grant in the memorial tomb in New York City.

Q—What is unique about the feeding process of young pigeons?

A—After the young hatch, they are fed on "pigeon milk"—a unique substance secreted by the lining of the parent's crop—and then pumped into the mouths of the young. This is quite unlike any feeding process found elsewhere among birds.

If you want to overbid, go ahead! It's lots of fun. On the other hand, an overbidder had best play his cards mighty well.

South's opening two spade bid was definitely on the weak side, but there was no reason why he should not have picked up the rubber with it.

West opened the king of hearts and continued the suit. South ruffed the third lead with the eight spot. He played the ace of trumps to see what would happen and he found out. West discarded a diamond. Now it was too late to make the hand.

South went to dummy and led the nine of spades but East played low and South was back in his own hand. Since there was no way to reach dummy any more, South had to lose one trump and one club and go down one.

What should South have done? He should have trumped that third heart with either the jack or ten. Then when he led the nine of spades from dummy he could play his eight and dummy would retain the lead.

Another spade lead would take care of East's queen and the hand would make.

Any expert would ruff with the ten or jack automatically. Experts get in the habit of allowing for bad breaks and keeping potential entries in both hands. Any careful player would also ruff with the ten or jack, but probably after a little thought. Only the careless man would go down.

Stevenson Is Seen Involved In 'Strange Circumstances'

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, May 23 — Does Nikita Khrushchev want to see Adlai Stevenson elected President of the United States in November so that he can negotiate a deal at the next "summit" conference?

Does Mr. Khrushchev hope that Mr. Stevenson, if not nominated, will be considered for the post of Secretary of State in a Democratic administration, as Senator Kennedy hinted the other day?

Why was Mr. Stevenson, in an interview published in Paris a week ago Sunday, quoted as favoring an allied retreat on the Berlin problem?

Why did Mr. Stevenson last Thursday night tell a political dinner meeting in Chicago that the administration has "helped make successful negotiations with the Russians — negotiations that are vital to our survival — impossible so long as they are in power?"

A Strange Sequence
These questions are prompted by a strange sequence of circumstances. Thus on March 9 last the "New York Times" printed a United Press International dispatch from Moscow which read:

"Soviet Premier Khrushchev has his own opinions about the United States' Democratic party's Presidential possibilities, he revealed tonight. He put Adlai Stevenson at the top of his list in comments to Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco at a dinner. Mr. Khrushchev's rating of the Democrats:

"Mr. Stevenson: the best among United States politicians. "Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts: able, but some reservations about his youthfulness."

"Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri: he's a 'good' man." No other Presidential aspirants were mentioned, not even Senator Humphrey, who had once participated in a marathon conference of several hours with the Soviet Premier. Mr. Stevenson also conferred at length with Mr. Khrushchev in Moscow and wrote articles about him, but they did not contain any of the stings that the Minnesota Senator included in his published remarks.

Diplomacy Rule Ignored
Mr. Stevenson, therefore, apparently is the favorite of Mr. Khrushchev, who has brushed aside the old rule of diplomacy that a foreign government must not interfere in the political campaigns of another country. The Soviet Premier evidently thinks Mr. Stevenson, as the titular head of the Democratic party, speaks for it.

But James A. Farley, former Postmaster General in the cabinet of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and a former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, has just issued a statement urging the Democratic party to repudiate Mr. Stevenson's speech of last Thursday night. Mr. Farley said in part:

"The unwarranted attack of Mr. Adlai E. Stevenson on the President's conduct of the summit negotiations, in my opinion, in no way represents the thinking of the Democratic party. . . . In his few remaining weeks as titular spokesman of the Democratic party he has indicated every reason why the Democratic party in convention should select a spokesman who speaks for it in fact. I can think of no more effective way of doing so than by a unanimous resolution of condemnation and repudiation of his absurd speech in Chicago as representing the views of the Democratic party."

His Talk of 'Retreat'
The strangest episode of all, however, is the interview with Mr. Stevenson which Soviet Premier Khrushchev read in "Paris-Press L'Intransigeant" just after his recent arrival in Paris. That interview was written by Robert Boulay, home at Libertyville, Ill., where he said he spent an afternoon, together with other guests. The article, with a streamer headline across the page, said that Adlai Stevenson had proposed virtually a retreat from Berlin and American troop withdrawal from Europe. The published interview was a shock to Americans abroad, coming as it did just a few days before the "summit" conference was to open. Evidently Mr. Khrushchev read it carefully, because in his own speech at East Berlin last Friday he paraphrased one of the points in the interview to charge that Chancellor Adenauer had succeeded "in worming his way to the post of Secretary of State of the United States."

Mr. Boulay, in his interview, quotes Mr. Stevenson as having said:

"For ten years there has not really been a Secretary of State for American foreign policy. During that period the real American Secretary of State has been German Chancellor Adenauer."

On Reducing Troops
In other parts of the same interview, Mr. Stevenson is quoted as favoring American concessions, such as a substantial decrease in allied troops in West Berlin. He is reported to have declared also that he could for see in the future the pulling of American forces out of Europe. When asked whether there would be a change in American foreign policy after the November elections, Mr. Stevenson is quoted as having said: "there will be important changes in American foreign policy."

Mr. Stevenson last Tuesday denied ever having given any interview at all to any Paris newspaper. But he issued a statement to the "Chicago Daily News" the next day admitting that he had talked with Robert Boulay but calling the published interview incorrect. He said it did not represent his views and that "the most charitable explanation of such irresponsibility, presumption and discourtesy is that his English was poor and my French no better."

In Paris, however, Americans who know Mr. Boulay say he writes and talks English very well and is a reliable reporter. Just what did Mr. Stevenson really say to Mr. Boulay? Maybe all this is something for the Democrats in Congress to include in their investigation of recent events. For there is no doubt that an appeasement faction exists today inside the Democratic party, and certainly Mr. Stevenson's speech — just four days before the all-important debate at the United Nations Security Council—helped to wreck bipartisan unity in this country. E. F. HUTTON

HOLY SMOKE, SENATOR!

Senator Kenneth says that "seventeen million Americans go to bed hungry every night."

Holy smoke, Senator, how long have you known this. If true, stop all foreign aid instantly, and start feeding our starving people. But Senator, you've been mighty strong for foreign aid.

Seventeen million is about 10 per cent of our population. Out of every hundred people you meet campaigning, Senator, do ten look hungry? Only where there are flophouses for derelicts in the big cities could you find support for your fantastic figures.

A lot of folks, who are not derelicts, do have to pinch pennies to "get by." Why? One reason, and especially if they are retired, is that their nest eggs have been sucked by inflation and ever rising taxes.

Life insurance companies used to picture a retired couple living pretty comfortably on an E. F. Hutton annuity of 100 $'s a month. Now they advertise that they need two or three times as much.

A married couple with two children who earned 3,000 $'s in 1939, now need 7,155 $'s to have as much purchasing power as they had 21 years ago. Inflation and rising taxes now cost them more than their total income in '39!

If the couple are now past 65, and out of work, they are in a squeeze that will get worse if "liberal" Senators continue to "tax, spend and elect."

They have been robbed by Government!

Jewish Leaders To Meet May 30 for UJA Appeal

More than 150 Jewish leaders, representing 22 communities in the Catskill Mountain area, are expected to attend the United Jewish Appeals annual Catskill Mountain area conference Memorial Day, Monday, May 30 at Grossingers, it was announced by Harold L. Gold of South Fallsburg and Joseph H. Posner of Brickman's, UJA Area and Conference Chairman.

The conference speakers will be former Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin of Maryland, Miss Miriam Hadar—Miss Israel of 1959—and Melvin S. Goldstein, UJA Administrative Vice-Chairman. Paul Grossinger, David Levinson of Ellenville and Bernard Weiss of Monticello, the UJA's Honorary Chairmen for the region, will also participate.

The Catskill Mountain conference is a first step in the mobilization of the Jewish residents in this area on behalf of the national campaign of the United Jewish Appeals. Through the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee and the Jewish Agency, UJA funds provide aid for over 600,000 needy Jews in Eastern Europe, North Africa and in the Middle East, and helps resettle Jewish immigrants in Israel. In addition to funds for this program of aid, the UJA is seeking to raise a special multi-million dollar fund, nationally, to help meet the special needs of the 350,000 immigrants who have not yet been totally absorbed by Israel's economy.

Gives Vigorous Aid

Gov. McKeldin is a long-time friend of Israel, who helped found and served as the first president of the American Israel Society, whose membership includes many distinguished American leaders of every race and creed. His interest in Israel also led him to visit that new democracy and to give vigorous aid to the United Jewish Appeal campaigns through the years.

Miss Hadar, a law student who expects to enter the Israel Foreign Service, is also a veteran of the Israel Army and served as a parachutist during the Sinai campaign. She came to this country as a scholarship student at the Law School of New York University. While attending that school, she was crowned Miss NYU and in 1958 also represented Israel as a finalist in the Miss Universe Contest.

Served in Critical Times

Mr. Goldstein saw extensive service overseas as an executive of the Joint Distribution Committee. During the critical war and post-war periods, he participated in the programs of aid, rescue and resettlement, which enabled over one million men, women and children to survive. In 1951 Goldstein returned to the United States to serve with the United Jewish Appeal.

The Cabinet of Leaders for the 1960 UJA campaign in the Catskill Mountain area, who will participate in the Conference, are:

Auto Is Demolished Standing in Tracks

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) —

An automobile was demolished, five New York Central trains were delayed an hour, and a wooden barrier was smashed—all because Joe Servas made the wrong turn and started driving along the Central's main line tracks.

It happened early Sunday morning as Servas and his wife were driving home. They turned into a private road by mistake, drove through the barrier and bumped along the tracks 157 feet before the car stalled, police said.

Servas and his wife started walking for help but, before they found any, a passenger train rammed the car and shoved it another 175 feet. No one was hurt.

Servas was charged with public intoxication.

School 7 P-TA Will Hold Final Meeting, Program

School No. 7, Parent-Teacher Association, will hold its final business session and special pupil program Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. in the George Washington School auditorium.

The main event of the evening will be the song, dance and instrumental entertainment presented by the children of all grades of School No. 7 under the direction of Miss Rebecca Hughes, music teacher. To avoid possible interference by weather and to provide ample seating and car parking, the program will be held at the George Washington School rather than the No. 7 schoolyard.

As the children complete their particular portions of the musical show they will leave the stage to join their parents in the auditorium. After the entire program, the children will be served refreshments in the cafeteria, under supervision, to allow the parents to participate in the business meeting.

President Robert Ackert has arranged an informal agenda. There will be reports of the cake sale, Cub Scouts and the Teacher Recognition dinner. A full explanation and report of the P-TA sponsored "in-school" insurance policy will be made.

Also on the business agenda, the nominations committee will present a slate of officers they have selected to direct the functions of P-TA School No. 7, for the next school year. The new officers will be informally installed, so that they can meet this summer to prepare for next year's activities.

George Washington School has adequate space for comfortable seating and a fine stage, and Mrs. Frieda Dunge, principal, invites all parents, friends and neighbors to attend the program.

Rockefeller announced the establishment of Youth Employment Service, a special branch of the State Employment Service, last night.

He said in a statement "the purpose of the program is to open up constructive activity for those of our young people who want to work and are now idle."

In New York City, the service will operate through 23 neighborhood and settlement houses, where counselors will advise youths who are looking for jobs. Later, the program will be expanded to work with New York City school authorities.

Rockefeller said the establishment of Youth Employment Service will operate through the offices of the State Division of Employment.

Mrs. Marguerite H. Coleman, director of special services for the State Employment Service, will supervise the program.

Rockefeller said about 10,000 boys and girls in New York City were unable to find jobs. He said the numbers were smaller in other parts of the state but the problem was the same.

Will Help Find Jobs for Youth

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The state will help youths 16 to 18 in New York City find jobs as the beginning of a program that eventually will operate in all large communities in the state, Gov. Rockefeller says.

Rockefeller announced the establishment of Youth Employment Service, a special branch of the State Employment Service, last night.

He said in a statement "the purpose of the program is to open up constructive activity for those of our young people who want to work and are now idle."

Worldwide Alert Gates' Own Idea

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates says "it was on my own" that he ordered a worldwide alert test of U.S. forces on the eve of the ill-starred summit conference last weekend.

Gates told newsmen Sunday, however, he advised the President of his intention to order the alert.

The military test has been criticized in some quarters as perhaps contributing to the collapse of the Paris Big Four conference.

Gates said "I considered it a prudent thing to check out our communications readiness. It was a good test on a no-warning, no-notice basis. I am mystified why anyone would question the wisdom of it."

He said such tests would be continued as part of cold war readiness trials of the armed forces.

Asked about President Eisenhower's halting of further U-2 spy plane flights over the Soviet Union, Gates said "The Department of Defense is not responsible for conducting operation of U-2 flights."

and told his companions that he was going for a swim.

Dixon, a small man weighing about 114 pounds, then jumped backwards into the water. He was clad lightly.

Kicks Loose, He Says

Nelson, who was rowing at the time, snatched off his shirt and jumped in after him, grabbing Dixon around the neck. Dixon then kicked Nelson in the leg, causing him to let go his hold, and Dixon sank from view.

The incident occurred about midnight. Dixon's watch stopped at 12:10.

"Sheriff Claude Bell said today that the drowning is still under investigation by his office.

Verdict Withheld

Coroner Michael Galletta of Saugerties withheld a verdict today pending further investigation. He said death was due to asphyxiation by drowning. The body was removed to the Ulster County Morgue at Kingston Hospital.

The sheriff's office said this morning that it is believed that Dixon may have a sister in Roanoke, Va. and efforts were being made today to reach her.

The sheriff's office received a call about 12:50 a. m. Sunday from Camp Chi-Wan-Da that a man had drowned in the lake. Sheriff Bell, Undersheriff Clayton W. Vredenburg, Jailer Carl Cline and Deputies Donald Beaumont and Harrison Rose rushed to the scene with grappling equipment.

Other Units Notified

Also notified were the Port Ewen Fire Department and the Ulster County Skin Divers Club. The first department dispatched floodlight equipment to the scene, manned by Chief Edward Mains, Assistant Chief Mack Tinney, Harry Van Norman, James Ellsworth and Donald Tinney. Constables Floyd Barringer and Frank Bartoff of the town of Esopus were also there.

William Mills of Ulster Park and David Lasher of Hurley Avenue, members of the skin divers club, reached the lake a short time later and commenced diving operations in an attempt to locate the body.

At the same time the sheriff's office dragged the lake with grappling hooks. Cline and Beaumont handled the hooks while Arthur Greenberg of New York City, an employee of the camp, manned the oars. Neither the divers nor the grappling unit was able to find the body during the night, although they pressed the search until 5 a. m.

Begin Diving

About 6:30 a. m. a contingent from the sheriff's office and eight frogmen converged on the lake and began a diving operation. The grappling hooks were abandoned because of heavy eel grass and lily stems.

Representing the sheriff's office were Sheriff Bell, Undersheriff Vredenburg and Deputy Sheriffs William Churchill, Harrison Rose and Michael Stuper.

For the skin divers club were Mills, Lasher, Thomas Mains, Linderman Avenue, Dick Grant, 45 Plattekill Drive, Mt. Marion, Gerry Klemm, 34 Pine Street; Thomas Waters, 65 Gage Street; William Mundhenk, Sawkill Trailer Park, Sawkill, and William Parker, 13 North Mannheim Avenue, New Paltz.

The body was recovered by Klemm at 8:27 a. m.

The sheriff's office said Dixon had been at Camp Chi-Dan-Da about two weeks. He obtained employment through the Louis Employment Agency, New York City.

Praises Skin Divers

Sheriff Bell said today that he greatly appreciated the assistance of the skin divers club, and that it was most reassuring to know that they were available for such emergencies.

He also called attention to the fact that each diver must provide his own equipment and pay for upkeep and charging of cylinders, etc. A cylinder of compressed air, which costs about $2.50, lasts for 30 minutes.

The sheriff also thanked the men in his own department for their wholehearted response.

Compressed air used by the divers at the lake this weekend was furnished by William Nichols of East Park Road, Hyde Park.

Lake Esopus is located about half a mile east of Route 9W.

Littleton's body was recovered from Lake Copake within an hour but he was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Robert L. Bowdhan, Columbia County Coroner. Robert Near issued a verdict of accidental death due to asphyxiation.

It was reported that Littleton could swim and had managed to make some headway toward shore when his heavy clothing apparently dragged him under.

A companion, Clarence Fox, 21 of the Bronx, swam to shore safely. He dove back into the lake in a futile effort to save Littleton. The body was recovered by troopers of the Copake state police and the Copake Rescue Squad about 40 feet from shore.

Police said Littleton stood up in the canoe, lost his balance and pitched out of the craft, causing it to capsize. He started work at the country club several weeks ago.

Awarded Scholarship To Fordham Pharmacy

Susan Wallace, 17, a senior at St. Ursula's Academy, has been awarded a scholarship to Fordham University College of Pharmacy, it was announced today.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Louis Wallace of the Woodstock-Saugerties road.

Miss Wallace will enter Fordham in the fall.

She has earned the highest scholastic rating in the senior class at the academy, it is reported.

Financial Transactions

(Morgan Davis & Co.)

NEW YORK (AP)—A few selected issues made good gains in an otherwise mixed and sluggish stock market early this afternoon.

Most key stocks showed gains or losses of fractions to about a point. A few of the "science" stocks advanced 1 to 3 points.

The market was higher at the start then slipped into irregularity as trading slackened.

The trend was mostly lower among aircrafts, steels, oils and utilities. Tobacco, coppers and rubbers had an edge to the upside. Chemicals, drugs and rails were mixed.

Thikol, the rocket fuel, slipped more than 2 points.

Texas Instruments rose more than 3. Motorola and Beckman Instruments advanced more than 2 apiece and Polaroid about 3.

American Machine & Foundry, awarded a contract to design an underground launching system for the Atlas missile, rose more than a point.

Gains of about a point were made by Nafco, Allied Chemical, Eastman Kodak, Chesapeake & Ohio and Kennecott.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .25 at 625.49.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .30 to 216.90 with the industrials up .80, the rails unchanged and the utilities off .10.

Corporate bonds tended to ease. U.S. governments bonds advanced a little.

Eddyville Man Fined $75 for Drunk Driving

An Eddyville man entered a plea of guilty Sunday to a charge of driving while intoxicated and paid a fine of $75.

Sydney Graham, 27, also had his license revoked.

He was arrested by Trooper Joseph Ventriglia of the Kingston State Police about 1:45 a. m. Sunday following a collision with a car operated by Joseph Mihans, 52, of Poughkeepsie.

The Mihans car was proceeding south on Route 32, south of the Bloomingtown Road near Eddyville, Town of Rosendale, when the Graham vehicle, proceeding north, went off the easterly side of the road, struck an embankment and swung back across the highway into the Mihans car.

Two Applications Will Be Heard In Albany Today

An application for removal of Amos B. Stokes from his office as Town Superintendent of Eddyville, Town of Rosendale, when the Graham vehicle, proceeding north, went off the easterly side of the road, struck an embankment and swung back across the highway into the Mihans car.

Reports reaching the headquarters of Adm. Robert L. Dennison, Atlantic fleet commander, said forces of Prime Minister Fidel Castro were assembling in Guantanamo City for a move on the base "in the hope of creating a shooting incident," the newspaper said.

The size of the forces reportedly gathered in the small city outside the 45-square mile naval base was not available. The Ledger-Star said that its sources indicated the Cubans had been moving in quietly and in small bands in an attempt to disguise their movements.

Adm. Dennison was not available immediately for comment.

The Ledger-Star said that Washington sources verified that the Navy was aware of the possible move and indicated that sentries at the naval base had been warned.

The United States operates the naval base under an agreement with Cuba which still has many years to run. Only last week Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations, reiterated that the Navy would defend the base in accordance with the treaty.

Action Promised On Plane Downed In East Germany

BERLIN (AP)—The Soviet Embassy says a move will probably be made today or Tuesday concerning the U.S. Air Force plane downed in East Germany with nine Americans aboard.

An embassy spokesman declined to elaborate. He also declined to comment on reports the plane was forced down by Soviet fighters.

The C-47 strayed into East Germany last Friday on a routine passenger flight from Copenhagen to Hamburg. The next day, the Soviet Embassy said the plane was forced down by Soviet armed forces, presumably fighter planes, and that the Americans were in Soviet hands and in good shape.

The Soviets so far are treating the affair as a minor one and seem to be refraining from blowing it up into an international incident.

Candidates Seek New Ways to Win Delegate Support

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With primary battling done, the Democratic candidates have shifted to other ways of catching delegates to the presidential nominating convention.

Almost every likely candidate was affected by a weekend of state conventions, jockeying, and speeches.

On the Republican side, most of the weekend talk concerned choosing a man to run for vice president. The presidential nomination seems assured for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

After winning his seventh straight Democratic primary in Oregon, Sen. John F. Kennedy rested Sunday at his family home in Hyannisport, Mass.

In Phoenix, his supporters took control of Arizona's delegation to the national convention. The state, which will vote as a unit, will have 17 votes at the convention.

Kennedy, the front-runner, now has 329 1/2 convention votes. He needs 761 votes to win.

Johnson Second

In second place in the unofficial vote totals, based on primary results, conventions and AP polls, was Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. He had 107 1/2 votes.

A big chunk of that came Saturday night when Virginia Democrats, meeting in Virginia Beach, instructed their delegation to cast its 33 votes for him.

Johnson attended a high school graduation in Johnson City, Tex. Corrie Ann Crofts, the class valedictorian, said in her official farewell: "Only yesterday a class left this school and at that time no one had the idea they were in the presence of a future president of the United States."

The crowd whooped. Johnson ducked his head and grinned. He then kissed Miss Crofts on the cheek.

Symington Has 59 1/2

Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri had 59 1/2 votes to his credit, and he sought more by addressing the Minnesota Democratic-Farmer-labor convention in Minneapolis Saturday night.

We must rebuild on the ruins of the summit conference," he said, adding, "In short, we need a fresh start in American foreign policy and the only way to get it is to elect a Democratic president."

But the convention decided its 31 votes will go to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey as a favorite son candidate. Humphrey, who has withdrawn from the race, now has 51 1/2 votes. Many Minnesota delegates apparently favor Adlai E. Stevenson as their second choice.

Stevenson, the nominee in 1952 and 1956, had a total of 12 1/2 votes. But signs of more support continued to show.

In New York, a Stevenson-for-President committee announced it had collected 40,000 signatures on a petition urging the Democrats to nominate him.

For Vice President

Among the Republicans, several possibilities for vice president were suggested.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky said that if Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York declines the nomination, the Republicans should pick Sen. Jacob Javits of New York as Nixon's running mate.

Javits, in turn, plugged U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. as a vice presidential possibility.

Two Seperate . . .

Paul M. Butler in releasing the statement. He added that if Vice President Richard M. Nixon "wants to brush it under the rug, we are going to let him."

The council statement said "our foreign policy has failed not because of the recent blunders; rather, because of its fundamental lack of purpose and integrity."

The statement pledged support of any "sound efforts" the President may take to "salvage from the wreckage of the Paris meeting the means whereby the peace of the world can be assured."

Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) and Stuart Symington (D-Mo.) endorsed the statement. They are contenders for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Most Republicans decried criticism of the U-2 incident.

Nixon Is Trying

our interest in the welfare of friendly peoples struggling to stand with us in freedom."

Nixon reportedly got clearance from President Eisenhower for his letter, which places him on record as being strong agreement with the Eisenhower foreign aid program.

Congress has passed a bill authorizing a $4,066,000,000 outlay for military and economic assistance abroad, but there will be a strong effort to cut this figure when Congress votes the actual appropriation. Congress sliced 27 per cent off the authorization figure in providing funds for the current fiscal year that ends June 30.

Nixon did not specify a figure but said in the letter the mutual security program "is vital to our own security and indispensable to our future welfare and prosperity."

Held in Strangulation Of Negro Woman

TORONTO, Ont. (AP)—A 19-year-old white youth was held today in the strangulation of a Negro woman in Buffalo.

Buffalo police said Richard Kirton of Markham, Ont., had admitted he strangled Miss Lillian Ament, 28, in her apartment during an argument over money. He had been visiting her, police said. Kirton was held in Buttonville, near Markham, pending extradition proceedings in Toronto.

Q "I have about $80,000—$50,000 in savings accounts and $25,000 in stocks which include Pacific Gas & Electric, Pacific Lighting, American Telephone, Portland General Electric, Southern California Edison, and Crown Zellerbach. I have $5,000 in bonds of Standard Oil of New Jersey and Standard Oil of California. To increase my income, in what stocks would you advise further investment with funds now in the savings bank?" A newspaper subscriber.

A First let me congratulate you on your present portfolio. My only comment, and that's rather theoretical, is that your stocks are heavily concentrated in one section of the country. Since that area is the West Coast, where growth is very much above average and should continue so, I see no reason to change your present holdings. However, I'm going to suggest new investments on a broader geographical basis. It is a serious matter to transfer any considerable ### amount of funds out of a savings account and into stocks at a time when the market faces a good deal of uncertainty. I believe, therefore, that you would be well advised to buy issues that have high quality and defensive characteristics. I'm going to suggest three stocks in this category, each yielding close to four per cent: Corn Products, growing in food processing and packaging; National Dairy, leader in its field, with consistent growth since 1950; Marine Midland, a strong bank holding company blanketing New York State, with a record of periodic dividend increases.

Q "I own 100 shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey. Am planning to retire soon. Should I hold or switch?" C.P.

A Jersey, like the rest of the oils, has sold off on a world oil glut which is hurting profits and may take a long time to clear up. However, this is a very strong stock, the leader of the entire industry, and I would hold at present depressed levels.

Chile's Quake Gives Los Angeles Trouble

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The first tidal swell here early today from Chile's earthquakes was followed by an extremely low tide that broke mooring lines, set a few boats adrift and broke off yacht pier pilings.

The Coast Guard said the tide rose half a foot above normal, then dropped 1 1/2 feet below normal low tide.

Such an unusual lowering, a spokesman said, is ordinarily an indication that another wave is on its way.

At San Diego, the Shelter Island harbor master said a four- to five-foot wave rolled in but without apparent damage, the Coast Guard here reported.

Pastor of Fair . . .

Dean Dykstra has contributed much to the religious and civic life of the city. Membership in the Church has increased until today there is a membership of some 800, representing 438 families of the community. It was during his ministry that the present new Educational Building was erected and the sanctuary of the Church entirely remodeled and redecorated. Activities at the Church have been widely extended and the Nursery School, the only similar church school in the state accredited by the State Education Department, was established.

Since coming to Kingston 17 years ago as minister of the Fair Street Reformed Church, the Rev. Mr. Dykstra has taken a very active part in civic matters.

After graduation from Hope College, Holland, Michigan, the Rev. Mr. Dykstra attended the New Brunswick Theological Seminary from which he was graduated in 1943 and in June of that year accepted a call to the Fair Street Church where he succeeded the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley as minister.

The Rev. Mr. Dykstra is a member of the National Board of Domestic Missions, R.C.A.; member of the Board of Managers of the New York Synod Conference and Retreat House, "Warwick Estate"; is past vice president of the Board of Superintendents of the New Brunswick Theological Seminary. He is a past president of the Ulster Classis of the Reformed Church; past president of the Kingston Ministerial Association; past president of the Kingston Hospital Association; past president of Kingston Rotary and is a past member of the Board of Trustees of the Children's Home, Ulster County Red Cross, The Boys Club and Volunteers of America boards.

For three years he has conducted the radio program, "Overlook" a widely listened to week-day program.

It is expected he will assume his new pastorate in the fall.

School Budget . . .

in the preceding three-year period.

Two-thirds of the districts that had budget trouble were "typical suburban" and had fall enrollments of more than 1,500 pupils, the department said. It added:

More than two-thirds of the districts where budgets were rejected had experienced a rise of more than 21 per cent in the expenditure per pupil in average daily attendance. The state average was 18 per cent.

The turnover in school board membership in districts that rejected budgets was three times that in the matching districts.

School administrators, in the districts studied, said their budget - passing difficulties stemmed from high costs, dissension over local issues, activities of groups opposing the budget, alleged frills in the curriculum and failure of the voters to show an active interest in the budget.

Apparently the wealth per pupil and the number of children attending private or parochial schools had no bearing. The department said these characteristics were similar in both groups of districts.

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—One off-beat demonstration of the power of television is the fact that there are a lot of girls named Siobhan in the United States. And that almost everybody knows how to pronounce it Shiv-awn (with the accent on the second syllable.)

It is, in fact, an ancient Gaelic name meaning White Spirit, and was imported to these shores by a Dublin actress named McKenna. Siobhan McKenna, however, is a performer whose career recognizes no geographic limitations and so it may next pop up in Spain.

"It is very flattering," she says about the prevalence of Siobhan in America.

She lives—and often performs—in Dublin. She has become famous on the London and Broadway stage. She does several TV shows a year here, an occasional movie, and when she finishes "The Woman in White" on NBC's Hour of Great Mysteries tonight, she's off for a film in Spain.

Miss McKenna actually has not, by co-star Walter Slezak's standards, done many television shows in this country, but she has won notices for each one—particularly "The Letter," in which she pulled out her impeccable British accent, and two versions of "Cradle Song," in which her soft Irish brogue was unrestrained.

"I like to play many roles," she says, "because I act in the Irish form. The Irish form is to be the character—and I would get terribly tired of being one character all the time. But at the most I don't want to do more than four plays a year."

Although Dublin is where her home—and husband and son—are, Miss McKenna's American career brings her to New York often enough to make a permanent roof-free worthwhile. She has a small apartment in Greenwich village.

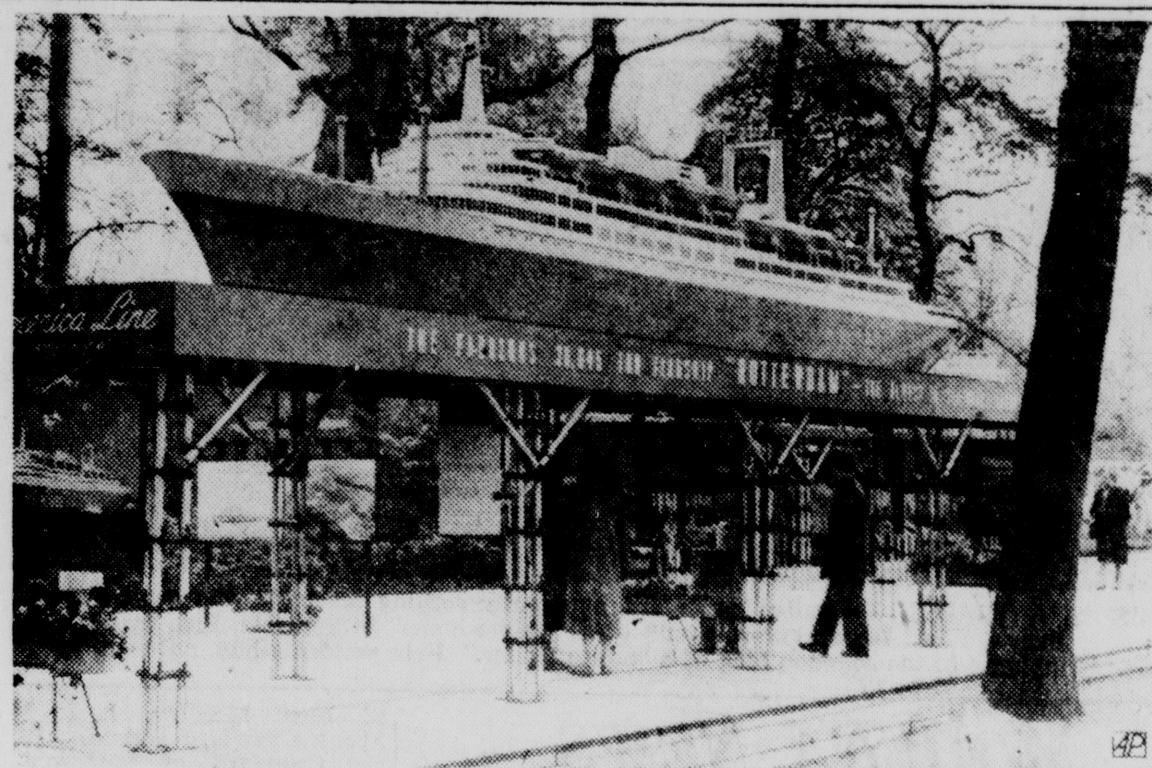

Back home with her son, they speak Gaelic. Speech is more than a hobby with her.

"The English speak fast and chipped," she said, "and their mouths form words differently. The American and Irish speak slower and use their mouths more. I took lessons and got an American accent to play in one show, but the producer wouldn't let me use it—he said it was perfect, but noticeable and diverting coming from me."

Recommended tonight: "The Woman in White," NBC, 10-11— with Siobhan McKenna and Walter Slezak in Wilkie Collins' mystery classic.

Change in Technique

LONDON (AP)—Drama critics in England in 1860 spoke their criticisms aloud during the performance of a play. After the play was over, they remained to speak aloud their verdicts if a play would be a success or failure. Ladies often would remain in their boxes after a performance to hear the critics' verdict.

MODENA NEWS

MODENA—The Parents Club met Wednesday evening at Modena School, when Mr. Clark, art teacher at the Wallkill Central High School, was guest speaker.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Russel Coy, Mrs. Kenneth Dimsey, Mrs. James Palen, Mrs. Ferdinand Savignano, Mrs. Eldred Smith, Mrs. Harold West. Plans will also be made for the annual picnic for members and their families, which will conclude activities of the club, until the opening of school sessions in September.

Mrs. Harold West was reelected area representative of Wallkill Parents Club, at a recent election of officers, and Mrs. Joseph Dault, also of Modena, was reelected president of the Wallkill unit.

Mrs. Roy H. DuBois visited Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Wild at Montgomery Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold West and sons, Roger and Ronald, visited at Point Pleasant, N. J. last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Wild and Miss Helen Wild of Montgomery, were in Samsonville Sunday, and also visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. DuBois, here.

Mrs. Lee Rognon attended a meeting of the National Locksmiths Suppliers Association held at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Detroit, Mich. May 14-15.

Members of the Public Health Nursing Committee of the Town of Plattekill met recently at the home of Mrs. Milton Van Duser, near Plattekill, for a routine business meeting and to plan activities as follows:

"Members will assist the public health officers at an immunization clinic and child health consultation to be held Tuesday from 1 to 3 p. m. at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, Modena.

On May 28, the committee is invited to attend Plattekill Grange Saturday evening meeting, and will be co-sponsors of a food sale, proceeds to benefit the Mental Health Association of Ulster County. The sunshine basket during April was sent to Mrs. Charles Roosa of Modena. The next meeting will be held Monday evening, June 6, at the home of Mrs. Grace Coy in Modena. Plans will be completed for the annual picnic for members, their families, and public health nurses serving this and nearby areas.

Attending the May meeting were public health nurses Miss Mary Lou Weyant, Miss Margaret Stewart of Marlboro; Mrs. Bernard Kouaskie of Plattekill; Mrs. Roy Jansen, Mrs. Grace Coy, Mrs. Arthur Schoenberg of Modena and Mrs. George Daly of Ireland Corners.

The place of the June meeting of the Womens Society of Christian Service of Modena Methodist Church, scheduled Thursday, June 2 will be announced in the church bulletin of Sunday May 29.

At this meeting the newly elected officers of the society, elected at the May meeting, will assume their duties. Elected to office were Mrs. Lillian Courter of Dolgeville and Modena, president; vice president, Mrs. Lester I. Arnold; secretary, Mrs. Floyd B. Wells; treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Simmons.

Installation of officers and the appointment of secretaries of the various departments of the society, will be made at the June meeting.

Attending the May meeting held at the home of Mrs. Anna Tomnesen were Mrs. William Cole of Highland; Mrs. Joseph Simmons of Ireland Corners; Mrs. LeRoy Gorman of Clintondale; Mrs. Ira Hyatt of Ardona; Mrs. Lester I. Arnold; Mrs. Fred Bernard, Miss Emma Behm, Mrs. Lois Black, Mrs. Lillian Courter, Mrs. William Decker, Mrs. Joseph E. Hasbrouck, Mrs. Floyd B. Wells, Mrs. George T. Johnson.

The woven rugs made from material prepared by society members during the winter season have been completed and are to be seen at the home of Mrs. Arnold in Modena.

Republican Club of the Town of Plattekill meets Tuesday 8 p. m. at Hasbrouck Memorial Hall.

A guest speaker is expected to address the assemblage, and the refreshment committee appointed includes, James Martorona, Salvatore Dolcemascolo, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pauli, Mr. and Mrs. Connie Rhodes, Carmine Sabatone, Salvatore and Angelo Nacri.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Bernard and son Jon, of Poughkeepsie; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Siemasko of East Meadow, L. I.; Mrs. Frank Crawford and Mrs. Richard Crawford of Hughsonville were among recent visitors of Miss Glennie M. Wager.

Mr. and Mrs. Eber H. Smith and sons, Wayne and Larre, were recent visitors of relatives and friends in Pennsylvania.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Davis of Lloyd were dinner guests of Miss Glennie Wager, prior to their departure for Newcomb in the Adirondacks, where they planned a two weeks vacation.

List Activities At Paltz College

Dr. Gerson B. Robison, associate professor of mathematics at the State University College of Education, New Paltz, will be teaching at Cornell University during the summer session.

He will spend half of his time assisting Professor Carver in the Shell Fellowship Program at Cornell, and the other half in teaching a course in the summer session entitled "Vectors and Determinants."

Dr. Richard J. Ordway, professor of geology at New Paltz, has been chosen to attend a conference on "Stratigraphy and Structure of the Appalachians," which will be held at American University in Washington, D. C.

Professor Ordway will attend the summer conference from June 8 to June 21, the conference made possible by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

George M. Wardlaw, assistant professor of Art Education at New Paltz, has been invited to show a painting in the Maine State Art Festival from August 1 to 31. This is an all-involuntary show of painting and sculpture to be held at the State House, Augusta, Maine. This exhibition will be a feature of a tour of the State House and will be seen by approximately 5,000 tourists from every state in the union.

Dr. Leo Pap, associate professor of foreign languages at New Paltz, has received a grant from the Research Foundation of the State University of New York.

Through funds from the research grant, Dr. Pap will continue his project study entitled

"The Portuguese Ethnic Group in the United States, including Hawaii." He will complete the data gathering through a field trip to the Portuguese Ethnic communities in California and Hawaii.

Dissolve Tobacco Tars from Mouth & Throat

New, exclusive relief
expressly for smokers

Tobacco tars are deposited on the sensitive membranes of your mouth and throat with every puff of a cigarette, cigar or pipe. To the possible health hazards of these foreign substances introduced into your physical system, are added the personal unpleasantness of a bad tasting mouth, and the offensiveness to others of a bad-smelling breath.

SMOKERS DROPS*, new and medicated relief from Smith Brothers, actually dissolve these gummy irritants. The special "detergent" ingredients in SMOKERS DROPS, protectively and pleasantly, emulsify and remove tobacco tars from these vital tissues. This new product, developed in the modern laboratories of famous Smith Brothers, is the ONLY relief made expressly for smokers.

Guidance Lacking About Marriage, P-TA Leader Says

By G.K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Today's teen-agers get better advice on how to choose a college, a career or a car than they do on how to pick a husband or wife," the national president of the P-TA said today.

Mrs. James C. Parker said the young people aren't being properly prepared for the responsibilities of marriage.

"Impulse marriages are becoming as common as impulse buying, and like impulse purchases, they are often regretted. All too often, they lead to impulse divorces," Mrs. Parker said in an interview.

"Young people seem to think they just can switch spouses if they don't like their bargain, the way they switch jobs or turn in a car for a fancier model."

Mrs. Parker, of Grand Rapids, Mich., spoke out between sessions of the 64th annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. About 2,500 delegates, representing 46,800 local PTAs, are attending the for menhaden.

Russian Crew Sure Mate in Good Hands

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—

The crew of a Soviet fishing trawler prepared to head for the open sea today, confident that an ailing comrade was getting good care from the Americans.

The 120-foot trawler Masalsk planned to resume fishing for three or four days and return to pick up the hospitalized crewman, said Viktor A. Osipov, a Soviet Embassy official.

The seaman, Ivan Baluik, was in good condition and recovering from an upper respiratory infection. He grinned at newsmen who finally got to see him Sunday. The husky red-haired sailor proudly flashed an English word: "Okay."

The trawler got Coast Guard permission to dock Saturday after Baluik was stricken at sea. The crew said they had come south of the usual fishing grounds looking

B of E Discusses School Expansion

At the School Board meeting Monday evening, plans for a new school building were under discussion. Surveys and increased enrollment have proved that more classroom space will be needed in the near future.

The proposed new building will be located outside of the village and will accommodate kindergarten through sixth grade.

Gerald DuBois, a board member, showed slides of other schools in New York State to give some idea on types of construction. Negotiations for the school site are already under way, and DuBois suggested the board have a recommendation to make to the public by fall, and suggested construction begin in the spring of 1961.

The board considered a policy on the use of the offset equipment and recommended that said equipment should not be made available to outside use by any organization without the express permission of the board after a written request for its use.

Under discussion also was a policy whereby sick leave would be increased from the present 60 days to 100 days accumulative and that a committee be established that would look into any extenuating circumstances that might require additional sick leave. This committee would consist of a member each of the board, faculty and administration.

Principal Frederick Dippel reported the resignation of Miss Isabelle Goldis, high school teacher of citizen education, who will take up teaching in the city. The board authorized Dippel to offer the position to Robert Bennett, subject to the approval of Lester Roosa, district superintendent.

tendent. Dr. William Hagney requested screens be installed in the windows of the library and the cafeteria for the summer.

Dr. Hagney also stated that after July 1, a new law will make it mandatory for a school board to provide legal defense for teachers involved in cases arising from disciplinary action against pupils while in discharge of their duties.

A letter was read from Mrs. Streifer telling of the growth of the commercial department and said that graduates of the department were qualified to fill important jobs. She said that some of the graduates were filling positions in banks, Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp., the college and in lawyer's offices.

Dr. Hagney stated that he feels that candidates for teaching positions should be observed in their classes. He recommended that in the future Dippel visit candidates and observe their teaching techniques. Mrs. Jacobson reported that she has heard criticism of the language program, another area where strength is needed.

All members of the board were present. June 6 was set for a special meeting at which time the members of the board will make a tour of the grounds and buildings.

Dr. Hagney congratulated Dippel, the students and teachers for the success of the Hudson Valley Relays and the smooth and efficient manner in which everything was handled.

Beatty to Attend Fire Police Meeting

Alvin Beatty, one of the founders of the association and other members of New Paltz Fire Department will attend the June meeting of the Ulster County Volunteer fire police in Milton in the near future.

Last Tuesday night the department entertained Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association at a meeting in the high school auditorium. The annual county convention will be held in Gardiner this year on Thursday, July 28 and Friday, July 29. The parade will take place in Kingston.

The fire siren will continue to be sounded on the first Monday of each month to test equipment and announce the meetings.

The local department will take part in the Ulster County parade to take place in Kingston July 25. A full quota of uniformed men in rolling vehicles will participate in the Memorial Day parade.

Tells Postal Clerks U2 Not Shot Down

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—The U2 spy plane that fell in Russia may 1 "was not shot down," Rep. Alex. Pirnie (R-NY) says.

Pirnie said the plane "conveniently landed on Soviet soil. The complete circumstances remain to be disclosed." He refused to elaborate.

The congressman made the remarks in a speech Sunday night at the closing session of a three-day convention of the State Federation of Postal Clerks. More than 200 attended the meeting.

John Morasco of Utica was elected federation president to succeed James Tagg of Flushing. Other officers named were: Seymour Robertson of Pearl River, executive vice president, and Norman Sovern of Flushing, secretary-treasurer. Daniel Sheehan of Syracuse was elected delegate to the federation's national convention in St. Louis in August.

Syracuse Mayor Desires Police Force Overhauling

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Mayor Anthony Henninger, "completely out of patience" with his police department, is seeking a special administrator to reorganize the force.

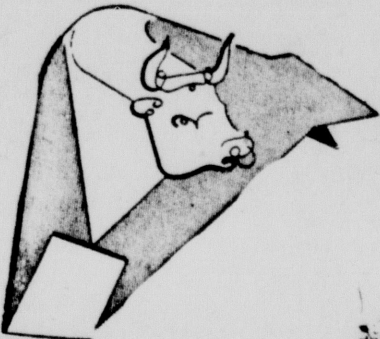

Henninger appealed Saturday to Gov. Rockefeller for aid in finding an administrator from the ranks of state law-enforcement agencies. Both officials are Republicans. Police Chief Harold F. Kelly will remain in office. The administrator, who will work from the mayor's office, will have authority over Kelly, Henninger said. The administrator will be concerned with all phases of police operations, Henninger said, but particularly with reorganization of the detective bureau and the vice squad.

"It has become obvious that our police department needs a thorough reorganization," the mayor said. Henninger has said he had been "personally embarrassed" by the department and was "completely out of patience." On May 13, State Police and the State Investigation Commission raided the alleged headquarters of a Syracuse numbers racket. Six persons were arrested and $20,000 was confiscated.

Saturday, police said they broke up a lottery ring with the arrest of two men. Hundreds of betting slips and $600 were seized, police said.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

Received an interesting item in the mail from one of my readers. It is an advertisement dated August 17, 1825, printed in old newspaper type. This may be a copy of the 1825 item but printed at a later date. It reads in part: "Samuel Alexander and Charles B. Penrose, have bought from George Gaullagher his large and very extensive stock of merchandise, composing a most extensive assortment of goods, suitable for the present and approaching seasons."

It further goes on to say: "They now offer to their friends and the public, at the old stand of George Gaullagher, at the most reduced prices. From a determination to keep the assortment at all times full, and their disposition to accommodate all who may favour the store with a call, they declare that on their part, nothing shall be wanting to afford satisfaction." It is a one column advertisement, name of city or state not given. No doubt the store was well-known wherever it was, and this was a going-out-sale of the 1820's.

The item further states: "The following articles compose a part of their stock of goods, to wit: Angola Cassimeres, plain and striped Satinets, Bombazens and Bonbazeens, Irish popolins, striped Bengals, blue and yellow company Nankeens, Levantine, Senshaws, Mantuas, Florence and Sarsnett Silks, plain and figured Mull-Mull, Jaconet, Cambric and Swiss Muslins, Robins and Italian crapes, Bengal chintz and ginghams, Long lawn and linen Cambricks, Washington, Wilmington and Union stripes, painted muslins and bed ticking, wash leather, horse and dog skin gloves, silk, kid and York tan gloves etc."

I know this is a strange assortment of materials to us today in the age of plastics, but some 135 years have passed and some of those materials still exist in old hand sewn quilts, and old laces, and old dresses or costumes. They certainly knew how to make thread in those days. It was firm, rugged and when one made a lace item or a hand crocheted quilt or fancy item it lasted a century or more. What about threads today, they seem to fall apart just from sunlight. In the 1825 advertisement they also speak of gentlemen and lady's leghorn hats, and straw and gimp bonnets. Remember when leghorn hats were kept from year to year and cleaned with a special hat cleaner. Remember straw-hat dyes and cleaners, my father sold them in the store, they were put on like a shoe-dye with a brush on a wire stick, which was attached to the cork, I think. In those days a glossy straw-hat could change color every weekend, and no doubt it did.

This 1825 store also carried rock and rifle powder, brandy, gin, spirits, molasses, sugar, coffee, tea, pepper allspice, salt, fish, etc. That was the general store or "super-market" of the 1820's. I appreciate these items from readers. No doubt our own Kingston Pitts' City Bazaar, at 4 Wall Street in the 1890's according to the Kingston Argus of Feb. 25 was like the above store. They also carried everything, from trunks, satchels, traveling bags, silver plated water, granite iron tea and coffee pots, piano lamps, hall and stand lamps, Rochester hanging lamps, flexible door mats, (will not break, rust or wear out) advertisement said. Dolls, drums, rocking horses, velocipedes, etc. With money one could buy all the necessities of life and many luxuries right here in Kingston in those years.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans who are puzzled about what's going to happen next after the Paris flareup and the increased missile rattling by Khrushchev can be pretty sure of one thing: The American and Soviet economic war is sure to pick up intensity — no matter what turn other phases of the cold war may take.

All to Be Involved

And each American will be involved. He'll have a part as a worker and producer, as a consumer deciding how to spend his money, as a saver and investor in economic tools.

The individual is involved because a chief factor in this war is to be the economic growth of the two lands.

This growth has two aspects: the total increase of production, and the kind of goods and services produced.

The Soviet Union — starting from a lower base — has been growing industrially at a faster rate in recent years and can be counted on to increase the rate if possible. And it has been channeling this growth along the lines that it deems give it the greatest advantage in its struggle to equal, then surpass and finally dominate the West.

Americans have seen total personal income after taxes gaining year after year. But the increase has gone mostly to meet higher costs and to improve living standards.

Washington estimates personal spending so far this year at the rate of almost 321 billion dollars a year. This is 3 1/2 billion or 1.2 per cent more than in the last quarter of 1959.

For several years personal savings have mostly held below 24 billion a year. Economists of the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. in Minneapolis point out that savings out of personal income after taxes in 1959 were 7 per cent, compared with 8 per cent in 1956, when total dollar savings were about the same but out of a smaller income.

Compulsory in Russia

The average Soviet citizen's income is estimated at less than a third of the average American's. But saving is something the Soviet government largely does for him through compulsory bond buying. His wages and the prices and sales taxes he pays are set by the Kremlin with the individual having little or nothing to say about it. The Kremlin also determines largely what he can buy, and what is produced for him.

The bulk of the increase in Soviet production is for direct military use or building up heavy industries, and for speeding up scientific development for specific purposes.

The Soviets have more persons to work and they work more hours per week. The Americans have the advantage of producing more per hour of work, thanks to more and better production equipment. But the flow of new equipment is largely determined by how and for what people spend their incomes, how they save and in what they invest. The outcome of the economic race could turn on that.

Are prices free to rise endlessly?

Does this mean that inflation can't be checked—ever? "Definitely not," say 64 top representatives of labor, education, business and government. For they concluded—at a recent meeting of the American Assembly—that this country can have dynamic growth... reasonably stable prices... and low unemployment. But to make this possible, all Americans must strive together to sustain a steady rise in productivity.

SEW-SEW SAVINGS

Mrs. Carlotta Sibling rigged up a see-saw on the sewing machine foot treadle and put her twins to work in place of electricity. Mrs. S. figures she's saving enough on electricity to make it worthwhile.

ACTUALLY, Mrs. Sibling's "savings" couldn't justify the wear and tear on the twins' clothing. A full month's average use of an electric sewing machine costs only 5 cents... just one more reason why the average family is using twice as much electricity today as in 1947.

BUY BONDS

Successful American corporations study the money market diligently. When interest rates are low, they often borrow substantial sums to refund outstanding obligations carrying higher-rate coupons, to retire loans and to get money for capital improvements and construction.

Millions of isolated investors buy the bonds of such corporations. The majority of these persons are thrifty and saving. They do not understand fully the operations of the money market and when they can purchase good long-term bonds paying more than they can get in savings institutions, they buy such obligations.

Today the bond market is saturated with high grade bonds selling at large discounts from face value. My mail brings me steady inquiries about these obligations.

I shall illustrate. In recent years Union Pacific Railroad—a carrier with a high credit rating—brought out a 2½ per cent bond due in 1961 in a refunding operation. Bonds carrying higher coupon rates were called in when money was cheap and these new bonds took their place. In the meantime money has become much more expensive and right now these 2½s due in 1961 can be bought for about 66 cents on the dollar.

A growing enterprise, American Telephone and Telegraph, sold a big issue of 2½ per cent bonds at more than 100, due in 1971, to finance a construction project. These bonds today are around 85. They are very high grade.

Standard Oil of New Jersey merchandised a large offering of 2 3/8 per cent bonds, and, when money was cheap, they commanded a price much higher than today's quotations. They are selling for about 82 cents on the dollar.

These four issues could be multiplied ten times over. Some significant truths grow out of these happenings. Two are: (1) Avoid buying high-grade bonds when money is cheap and bond prices are high; (2) don't sell good bonds when money is expensive and bond prices are down.

A religious organization, whose money managers are not money-market students, bought $10,000 of high-grade 3 per cent bonds at 99. They are now 77 and the paper loss is disheartening.

The last thing these money managers should think of doing is to sell the bonds and take a loss. Rather, if they can they should buy more at present lower prices.

To every investor in America who believes that stock prices are too high and yields too low, the bond market today is very inviting.

Money is expensive. Bond prices are down. Money will get cheaper. When that happens, scores of quality bonds like the four mentioned here will advance sharply in price. Buy bonds if you are afraid of stocks.

WHY "UP" POSTAGE?—Charted, above, is one reason the Post Office Department cites for its request to up postal rates. For 13 successive years—1947 through 1959—the postal service has incurred deficits ranging from more than 200 million dollars to nearly 900 million annually. The total represents almost 50 per cent of the increase in the national debt during that time. Data from a Post Office Department survey of postal rates.

City Laboratory Expands Over 20-Year Period, Big Asset to Community

CITY LABORATORY CLASSROOM—The classroom in the City Laboratory as it appears today has improved in appearance and has available full bookcases of reference manuals and books. Senior personnel (above) have accumulated a total of 157 years of service to Kingston and Ulster County. They are (l-r) Marcia Clark, bacteriologist, 18 years; Morris Nussbaum, sanitary chemist, 13 years; Thomas Hart, laboratory helper, 24 years; Blanche Long, stenographic secretary, 15 years; Marie Nolan, histologist, 16 years; Lionel Herrington, chief technologist, 25 years; Vincent Meleski, serologist, 22 years; and Walter Lyons, biochemist, 24 years. (Freeman photo).

CLASSROOM 20 YEARS AGO—The growth of the medical library and classroom of the City of Kingston Laboratory is apparent from then and now photographs. In building up the library to its present status, there has been continued interest upon the part of many physicians who contribute regularly to the collection. The books are for reference and do not circulate. Bibliographies are prepared and when more information is needed other books are borrowed through Inter-library Loan Service. Careful attention is given to all questions submitted to the library. (Freeman photo).

LABORATORY LIBRARY TODAY—The library of Kingston City Laboratory has developed into a community service with service being available to all hospitals and physicians in the area. The total number of books in the library at the beginning of the year reached 1,191 volumes and the collection of journals numbers 1,698. The medical library regularly subscribes for 59 different journals representing almost every phase of medicine. Miss Evelyn Thomas, assistant librarian, and Miss Bertha Parrish, (seated), medical librarian are on duty. (Freeman photo).

LIBRARY 20 YEARS AGO—The City Laboratory library (above) 20 years ago, a much needed service at that time, was started with a fair sized collection of manuals and books. An additional service of the library today is to obtain reprints and photostatic copies of articles of special interest in both American and foreign journals. This facility is considered especially valuable in research work where original publications must be reviewed for reliability and authenticity. (Freeman photo).

The Shock of Your Life

So she took a bobby pin out of her hair and poked it into the thingamajig and all the lights in the house went out. She was lucky; she might have electrocuted herself.

Electricians are sometimes difficult to contact, but they are the only ones who should fix electrical appliances. You may have done it successfully 99 times, but the hundredth time you'll be a job for the undertaker.

That goes, too, for Scotch tape around frayed electric wiring and that 30 ampere fuse you put in the box instead of the 15 that belongs there. Of course, you wouldn't dream of putting a penny in the box to replace the burnt-out fuse when you haven't got another handy. Or would you?

Very new houses and apartments usually have heavy wiring to carry broilers, air conditioners and such new gadgets. They can take, in addition, two or three appliances at the same time. But most old places (and these days that can mean three years old) just haven't the wiring voltage to carry what you've got plugged into them right now.

If there are small children in the house, remember that an empty outlet fascinates them and small fingers or a metal toy can make contact with the current. Avoid tripping. There are covers that you can put over the outlet to make it impossible for baby to get a fatal charge of electricity.

It may seem to you outrageously extravagant to call in an electrician just to splice a wire. But we have sat in darkness for several hours as a result of trying to be smart and splice the wire ourselves.

Lands His Plane In Swamp That Looks Like Field

HILLSDALE, N. Y. (AP)—A student pilot crash-landed his single-engine plane safely Sunday in a swamp.

John Fado, 20, of Hillsdale, on a practice flight from Great Barrington, Mass., told State Police he thought his engine was failing and decided to land. The swamp looked like a field, he said.

Fado was not injured. The plane nosed over and flipped on its back.

The Old Press Agent

By FRANK TRIPP

Annie Oakley was the product of the old-time press agent but once she bit the hand that petted her to prominence. "Little Sure Shot" turned her guns on that which made her. She sued a string of newspapers across the country.

Annie was the world's greatest woman marksman of her time, probably of all time. Her fame was revived by "Annie Get Your Gun," on Broadway. She was a star of Buffalo Bill's Wild West at the turn of the century.

Annie's skill was her own but her fame was the creation of a master press agent, Major James M. Burke. He also "made" Buffalo Bill.

Being tops as a crack shot, Annie had imitators. When one of them fell into the news in an unfavorable light, youngsters of the press confused her with the genuine Annie and got their papers into trouble. Annie took to the road to collect balm from those who had lauded her to fame and fortune.

Press men of that day looked upon it as shabby repudiation of a sort of license which press agents granted the press in behalf of their clients; in return for which they pre-empted plenty of such license for themselves. Annie collected all of six cents from my paper.

WHEN I WAS a press agent and ragged impresario several Wild West shows toured the country. There were Col. William F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill"; Major Gordon Lillie, "Pawnee Bill"; Colonel Cummins' show and Miller Bros' 101 show exhibited in great open arenas with only canvas sidewalls and canopied coverings for the customers.

A greater shot than Annie Oakley was Johnnie Baker, Cody's foster son. I last saw Johnnie when we leaned over the fence surrounding Buffalo Bill's grave, looking down on Denver, and discussed with Fred Bentils Wyoming's scheme to move the old scout's grave to Cody, Wyoming.

THE OLD press agent was as great an institution as the show itself. Major Burke was a master but not the peer of them all. P. T. Barnum's Tody Hamilton was a great.

As late as my day the lovable liars carried on the tradition. All were the predecessors of those gentlemen who now operate from ivory towers at high rearmers under the title of public relation counsel. My best friends among them were Dexter Fellows, Doc Waddell, Lester presses the whole philosophy of the old press agent. His aim was to do the unusual and conspicuous thing.

I FIRST MET Waddell in days when I sat beside David Belasco, Winchel Smith, Jerome Kern, John Golden and the minstrel kings and saw them put the finishing touches on their productions which were yet to be seen on Broadway. Days when I stayed in the night in some bar's back room with Victor Herbert and his cello—golden days of youth.

Sitting Bull was before my time, but I had a grunting acquaintance with Geronimo, vicious Apache Indian chief and raider, who was paroled by the government in Colonel Cummins' custody for palaces to see at the Pan American in Buffalo in 1901. Doc Waddell was Cummins' press agent, my idol among the "liars."

A SNAKE was taken sick and an ambulance came to take her to a hospital. Quick as a wink Doc saw the chance for nationwide publicity. He told reporters that Geronimo had an argument with the snake "and she got hurt." The story was printed with pictures and put on the press wire. Government agents showed up and Cummins had a hard time to keep Geronimo with the outfit. Doc was fired.

Doc then went with Bostock's Animal Show. He conceived the bright idea of having a boa constrictor "escape" and offered a $500 reward for its return. Stories about the snake spread for days. It was "seen" in all parts of Buffalo. People were afraid to go out at night. The publicity got hot and had to be ended. Doc sent two showmen to a swamp with a valuable boa constrictor to make a fake capture so Buffalo could sleep again. The snake got away and was recovered by two genuine captors who produced it and demanded the reward. Doc was "at liberty" again.

Things are more serious and less phony today, people are more sophisticated and editors more fussy—but a lot of fun and glamour passed out with the old-time press agent.

"DOC WADDELL" was born William Andres. Forty years before his death at 86 in 1953 he became an ordained Methodist minister and "Chaplain for Life" of Mills Bros. circus. He preached from atop Big Burma—the most unusual pulpit in all the world, for Big Burma was an elephant.

Kennedy May Have to Push Harder for 1st Poll Win

Editors note: Drawing on his long background of reporting political affairs and conventions for The Associated Press, Jack Bell gives his views of what lies ahead for Sen. John F. Kennedy in his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination.

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts may have worked himself into a position forcing him to push harder than ever for the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot.

Kennedy's unbroken string of primary victories has alerted his rivals that a stop-Kennedy coalition may be needed if they are to have any chance at the nomination.

To counter this, Kennedy undoubtedly will try to convince undecided delegates, even before the convention opens in Los Angeles July 11, that he is within reaching distance of the nomination.

If he can help it, Kennedy obviously has no intention of standing by and letting first-ballot votes for favorite sons help Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and backers of Adlai E. Stevenson create a deadlock.

Johnson and Symington seem likely to go into the convention with a combined total of more than 500 votes, the vast majority of which would belong to the Texan.

Another 173 votes would be tied up if Govs. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California, Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and G. Mennen Williams of Michigan hold out for complimentary first-ballot support that might enhance their chances for a place on the ticket.

Thus fewer than 100 more anti-Kennedy ballots would be needed to keep the Massachusetts senator from getting the needed 761 for the nomination in the initial voting.

If Kennedy can collect around 700 votes on the first count, he probably would get the necessary roll call switches right there to give him the nomination.

If he falls much short of that, Kennedy's bandwagon psychology might falter dangerously. Having stopped him once, his opponents, rather than he, might gain strength on subsequent tests despite substantial second-ballot support for Kennedy in some favorite-son delegations.

To offset this Kennedy apparently is going to have to break into the favorite-son lineup at the start. He will need also substantial support from the New York and Pennsylvania delegations, which have a total of 195 votes. New York leaders already have said Kennedy will have the backing of more than a majority of that state's delegates.

The shift of emphasis from primary to back-stage activity seems likely to cost Kennedy a drop in national publicity, which in turn might affect adversely the public opinion polls on which he leans heavily.

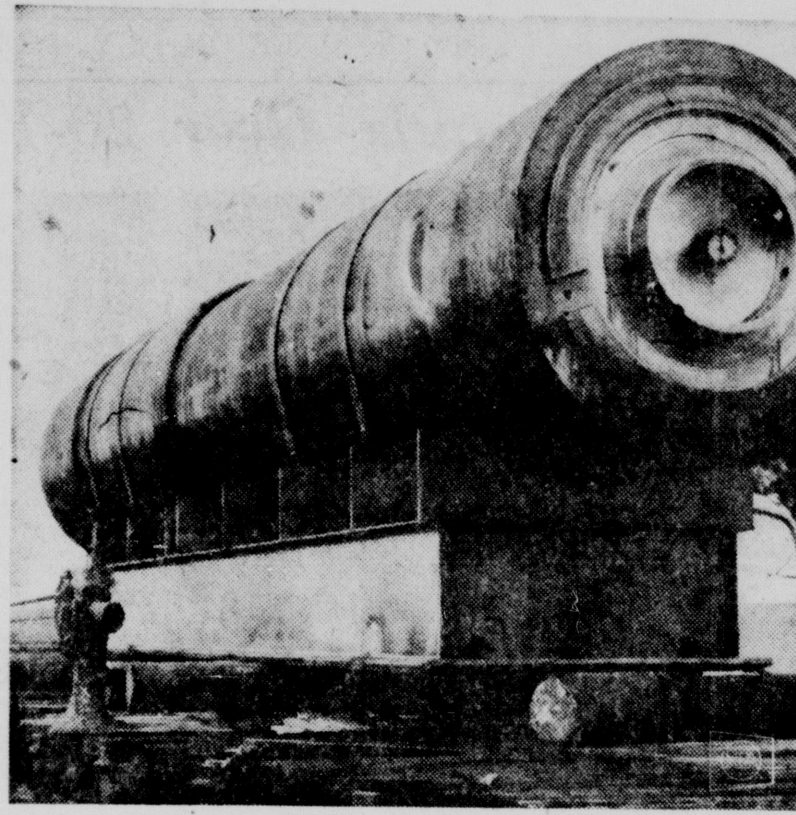

While he disposed of only two minor rivals in Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, Minnesota, and Wayne Morse, Oregon, at the polls, Kennedy kept his name in the forefront of the political battling with his primary campaigning.

But Kennedy can't hope to compete in the Senate with Johnson as far as publicity is concerned. That will be especially true while Johnson, as the majority leader, is fashioning the final pattern of legislation for a session expected to end only a couple of days before the Los Angeles convention.

The local contingent of boy scouts and leaders will number 70 people under the leadership of the scoutmasters and assistant scoutmasters. Scout leaders Bender and Elghmey, both veteran leaders and members of former jamboree troops, will serve on the sectional staff at the 1960 conclave—the former on the health staff and the latter in charge of sectional campfires. The leader of Region Two, Walter Horsely of New Jersey, will be in charge of the Colorado staff.

LEARN TO SWIM

It's a healthy exercise as well as a practical idea to know how to swim. Knowledge of swimming may at some time or other save your own life or the life of someone dear to you. Lack of confidence must first be overcome by the beginner, and be certain that you have a competent teacher. Until you can swim some distance with confidence and without exhaustion, keep out of water beyond your depth.

Lack of insurance coverage can keep you in hot water and knowledge of swimming won't help one bit. You want a competent agency to handle it for you. Allan A. Hanstein Inc., 41 Pearl Street, Kingston, Phone Federal 1-3964.

Nurse on Fishing Trip Stays to Help Seminoles

EVERGLADES, Fla. (AP) — A pretty public health nurse, who came here from Scotia, N.Y., on a fishing trip, has become a popular medicine woman with Seminole Indian children.

Mrs. Jerry Snyder has the youngsters willingly submitting to vaccinations and shots. The children also have persuaded their superstitious elders to come to town for immunizations.

"So far this year," Dr. Joseph W. Lawrence, Collier County health officer says, "a record 48 adult Seminoles have come in out of the Everglades Swamps to get vaccinations. Her success is remarkable."

"I like her," said Marie Cypress, a 6-year-old first grader. "She is nice to us," explained Wanda Osceola, an 11-year-old sixth grader.

Mrs. Snyder claims no special powers. "I just try to talk to them as if they were friends and people like anybody else, not members of a strange race."

Mrs. Snyder is the wife of Everglades' mayor, Dr. Kenneth Snyder, who also is the town's only physician and surgeon.

The Snyders came here on a fishing trip six years ago and stayed.

Mrs. Snyder, a native of Tampa, Fla., met her husband in Washington, D.C., while she was in college. They later lived in his hometown, Scotia, before moving to Florida.

Population Booster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Oxford University Prof. Coling G. Clark, an economist and population expert, says population growth should be encouraged rather than feared. Clark, a Roman Catholic, told a meeting here that mounting populations have historically compelled progress and stimulated stagnant societies to greater achievement.

Wolfersteig Takes Part in Ceremony At Indiana Univ.

Robert Wolfersteig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wolfersteig, Connelly, has been honored recently at Indiana University annual Founders' Day ceremonies marking the Hoosier State University's 140th birthday. Mr. Wolfersteig is working on his doctorate in organ.

Some 2,255 students whose grades won them selection for the annual Deans' Lists and membership in scholastic honorary societies, were cited by President Herman B. Wells. At a special convocation, attended by honor scholars and their parents, Wells announced that the University had received some $10.3 million in the past year in gifts, bequests and research grants to support the University's basic research.

Indiana University was founded in 1820 by an act of the Indiana General Assembly, and stands 12th in enrollment in the nation.

CYO County Meeting Is Called Tuesday

A meeting of the Ulster County Lay Committee for Catholic Youth will be held Tuesday, 8:15 p. m. at St. Mary's School Hall in Kingston.

Plans for the summer program will be made. Registrations for Pee Wee Baseball, Midget Baseball and Junior Baseball teams should be in the CYO office by June 1. Play will commence shortly afterwards.

A good attendance of parishioners throughout the county would be appreciated.

Grade Students Play For Various Recitals

Instrumentalists from age nine through 14 from George Washington and No. 5 Schools have been busy these recent weeks with concerts and recitals under the direction of Miss L. M. Roberts. Concerts have taken place and soloists performed at the Home for the Aged, Ulster County Infirmary, George Washington School Assembly, competitions and the Governor Clinton Hotel.

At competitions, very favorable comments and "A" ratings were received by Athena Loukas, Teri Marcus, Vaughn Askue, Rena DuBois, Joan Levy, and William Bruckert.

Three former pupils are assisting on these programs, Jean Palen, violinist from M.J.M., Cathy Lacey, cornetist and Robert Eck, drummer.

Accompanists are Mrs. Frank Peller, Robert Resue, Mrs. Fred Stang, Vaughn Askue and Darlene Keuhn.

Darlene has also doubled in singing as well as a violinist Carol Vinson. Donald Schryver has been student conductor.

Stage managers are Henry Marcus, chairman, Kenneth Baker, Robert Barringer, Arthur Beaulieu, Robert Elliott, Lester Felton and Donald Schryver.

Music of composers Bach, Mozart, Tchaikowsky, Rimsey-Korsakoff, Kroll, Sousa, Foster, Postolozza, Rieding, Hughes, Pelz, Langenus, Herbert, Herfurth, Lehar, and Severn were played.

Instrumentalists are Athena Loukas, Teri Marcus, Linda Nickerson, Linda Fields, Joar Levy, Rochelle Lipton, Billy Schoonmaker, James Alley, Billy Oskay, Ronald Storm, Karen Locke, June Robinson, Rena DuBois, Vaughn Askue, Coleen Duffner, Jacqueline Mottsey, Shelley Greene, Harriet Svirsky, Leslie Eck, Jean Palen, Joel Richardson, Richard Peller, Joan Raymond, Gail Booth, Barry Miller, Richard Cole, Glenn Connolly, Arthur Beaulieu, John Cashara, John Schomer and Robert Tomaszewski.

Also John Belito, Gregory Moore, Robert Eck, Robert Elliott, Lester Felton, Kenneth Baker, Robert Barringer, Henry Marcus, Susan Emerick, Susan Le Fever, Joanne Schoonmaker, Debbie Gage, Marjorie Spiegel, Robert Harkins, Edward Argule, Billy Winchell, Joseph Cohen, wicz, Reith Diehl, Edward Bruckert, Fred Le Fever, Larry Short, David Fletcher, Bonnie Moore, Carol Vinson, Lynn Sampson, Rosalie Bryana, Rosalyn Bryant, Charlotte Nickamp, Karen Urell, Cathy Lacey, Glenn Van Benschoten, Richard Slight, Richard Nardone, Donald Schryver.

B&P Club

Mrs. George Werner of Saugerties, dramatic monologist, entertained the Business and Professional Club of the YWCA and their guests at the annual "Guest Night" on Wednesday May 18. Mrs. Werner presented several selections, some comedy and one of a more serious nature.

This Wednesday, several new members will be initiated into full membership in the club. Also at that time tentative summer plans will be made.

MISS ELAINE STUDDT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Studdt, 59 South Manor Avenue, this city, will perform a piano solo, "Waltz" by Durand, at the annual M.J.M. Music Festival May 25 and 26, 8 p. m. in the Kingston High School auditorium.

MISS LINDA HORNBECK, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hornbeck of 56 Florence Street, is scheduled to play a violin solo during the festival. Miss Hornbeck will be assisted at the piano by Miss Studdt.

Carol Rylance Wins Tuition Scholarship

Carol A. Rylance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Rylance of 44 West Chestnut Street, has received a scholarship to University of Chicago's Graduate School of Education.

Rylance, a graduating senior at Hope College, has a major completed in Political science and a major in French, also.

The Tuition Scholarship of $1400 is for the year 1960-61. Rylance will apply her studies to a Master of Arts in teaching.

KHS Orchestra Wins Honor Rating In State Contest

The Kingston High School Orchestra, under the direction of Mark Baczynsky, has again won the honor rating B in the Grade 6 music at the Tri-Valley Central School, Grahamsville, in the New York State School Music Association Contests.

The judges, Burton Stanley and Anthony Millograno, commented on the fine selection of music, good general effect and precise woodwind work of the orchestra. Also, the orchestra was rated highly on balance, rhythm, phrasing, dynamics and interpretation of music. The selections played were first and third Movement of the Symphony No. 41 in C Major by W. A. Mozart and Pizzicato Polka by J. Strauss.

This event has marked the second consecutive year that the KHS Orchestra has won honor rating in this most difficult grade of music. On the basis of past statistics only about 12 out of New York State's 108 competing school orchestras play Grade 6 music at contests.

The KHS Orchestra will make its final appearance at the graduation exercises in June.

Regional Conference For Sisterhoods Is Set for June 9

A regional conference of the Sullivan-Ulster County Chapter of Women's Branch will be held on Thursday, June 9 at the Pioneer Country Club in Greenfield Park. The chapter consists of affiliated Sisterhoods throughout this area. Mrs. Ralph Strudler of Ellenville is Chapter President.

The theme of this year's conference will be "Accent on Youth." An arts and crafts workshop will be featured in the morning. Activities will get underway at 10 a. m. After the mid-day luncheon, the program will continue with speakers and election of Chapter officers for the coming year.

Reservations may be made through the Sisterhood president, or directly with the Chapter Secretary Mrs. Irving Kaufman, Monticello.

When a recipe calls for acidulated water for cooking sweet breads, add a teaspoon of salt and a tablespoon of vinegar to a quart of water.

Good Taste Today

By EMILY POST

Author of "Children Are People" and "Etiquette," etc.
FORGETTING AN ACCEPTED INVITATION

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I were invited to a friend's house next Saturday evening to play bridge. This date was made two weeks ago and I completely forgot about it. In the meantime another friend called me on the telephone and during the course of the conversation I invited her and her husband to dinner at our house for this same evening. I am in a dither over this and I don't know what to do about it. Do I call our friends and tell them not to come to dinner, or having first accepted the invitation to play bridge, are we obliged to keep it?

Answer: You must keep the first invitation which you accepted. You will now have to call up your friends, explain why you cannot have them to dinner Saturday and ask them to make it any other evening.

A Shower for Favorite Niece

Dear Mrs. Post: My favorite niece is going to be married shortly and my daughter and I would like to give a shower for her. A friend of mine tells me that it would not be proper for me to give such a party. I know it is not considered correct for a member of her immediate family, but is an aunt considered immediate family?

Answer: If no other showers are given for her, you probably would not be criticized. But if other showers are being given, this one by a relative would seem too many.

Checking Wraps at a Private Party

Dear Mrs. Post: When giving a large party at a club or in a private room of a hotel, is it the obligation of the hosts to make arrangements beforehand to pay for the checking of the guests' wraps, or do the guests take care of this themselves?

Answer: The hosts make arrangements beforehand and the checking attendants should be instructed to refuse any tips that may be offered to them.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-25 entitled "The Well-Dressed Woman," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of The Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Kings Chorus Will Sponsor Its First Concert June 7

Officers of Kings Chorus, Torme Larson, Carol Eichhorn, Sarah Miller and Margaret O'Reilly, met at the home of the secretary recently to discuss final arrangements for its Spring concert.

The concert, first of its kind to be sponsored by the Chorus, will be given Tuesday, June 7 in Bethany Hall of Old Dutch Church, at 8:30 p. m.

Selections will include sacred music, contemporary music and popular songs. Guest soloist will be Stephan Lokos, Hungarian violinist and artist.

COME-ON GAME—Her tiara is topped with a reproduction of the Statue of Liberty. That's because Bettianne Fisch is Miss New York Summer Festival. She's a traveling salesgirl, touring the country to impress everyone that her home city is a good spot to spend a vacation.

MONTEUX PLAYS FOR KIWANIS—Claude Monteux and his wife are pictured here playing a selection at the recent meeting of Kiwanis held at the Governor Clinton Hotel. Monteux, who is director of the new Hudson Valley Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra, will play a flute solo for the concert scheduled on Tuesday, 8 p. m. at Kingston High School. He will play Mozart's "Flute Concerto No. 2 in D."

PLAN AUXILIARY HAT SHOW—Viewing some of the hats which will be shown at the May 24 auxiliary luncheon are (l-r) Mrs. Berrien Blemker, Mrs. Robert Steuding, Mrs. Harold

Choir Director Is Honored at Party

A farewell party was given for Donald Romme, minister of music of Trinity Lutheran Church, by the junior and senior choirs recently. Mr. Romme is leaving his post after six years of service with Trinity Church. The invocation was given by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Frank Lawrence Gollnick. Mr. Romme was presented with gifts by the junior and senior choirs. Burton Heldron, president of the church council, also spoke.

The committee in charge was Mrs. Elsie Fassbender, Miss Posy Tomshaw and Miss Anita Rimmer.

Mr. Romme will be succeeded in his post by Robert Resue.

Hospital Auxiliary Luncheon Plans Nearing Completion

As regularly as spring, comes a question of the new hat—not whether, but which—so it was in the 1880's when Degas painted his charming classic "The Millinery Shop," so it is in 1960 as our Kingston Hospital Auxiliary broods happily over a choice of charming hats and exquisite period furniture. This delightful field of choice will be the interesting program presented at the annual luncheon of the Kingston Hospital Auxiliary through the courtesy of June Dessler and Kaplan Furniture. The luncheon will be held at the Williams Lake Hotel, Tuesday noon, May 24.

Members of the Auxiliary will conduct the program when many hats will be shown by Mrs. Berrien Blemker, Mrs. Fred S. Carr, Mrs. Harold Finkle, Mrs. Frederick W. Holcomb Sr., Mrs. Thomas W. Reynolds Jr., and Mrs. Robert Steuding. Periods furniture will be shown by Mrs. Gifford Beal. Commentators will be Mrs. George Rifenbary and Mrs. Gifford Beal.

Chairman of the annual luncheon is Mrs. William Hobbs. Assisting her are Mrs. Elbert Loughran, invitations; Mrs. Richard McNaughton, mailing; Mrs. Berrien Blemker, receipts; Mrs. George Rifenbary, program chairman, and Mrs. Thomas Reynolds Jr., publicity.

Seminary Prexy To Preach Here At CE Convention

The Rev. D. G. McKee, ThD, DD, president of the Biblical Seminary of the Presbyterian Church, will preach at the 11 a. m. services of the Old Dutch Church on Sunday, May 29, in conjunction with the 67th annual convention of the New York State Christian Endeavor Union May 27-30.

The convention is expected to attract some 500 young people from various parts of the state. Dr. McKee, who was elected president of the seminary in 1946, will begin a sabbatical year later this summer, following which he will leave the presidency and resume full-time teaching.

DR. D. G. MCKEE

He has made two extended trips to Europe and the Near East, the latest of which was in the spring and summer of 1951. The climax of the Near Eastern portion of his travels was a visit to the Monastery of St. Catherine and the Mountain of Moses in the Sinai Peninsula. Having made an extensive photographic record, he has given numerous lectures on the lands of the Bible and the early church. The seminary, founded in 1900, has a student body of 150 men and women. It has sent 8,000 ministers, missionaries and educators to all parts of the world.

County CYO Notes

Richard Hinkley, chairman of the county CYO committee, invites all adults interested in any phase of youth work to attend the county CYO meeting Tuesday 8:15 p. m. at St. Mary's School.

Plans will be formulated for the summer season and suggestions for enlarging the program are invited. CYO Baseball got underway in three of the city parks Saturday morning when the Elementary League started with St. Peter's, Rosendale; St. Peter's, Kingston; and St. Joseph's, winning the openers.

More than 100 boys are signed up in this league. Other leagues, PeeWee, Midget and Junior will get under way during June. There is still time for boys to sign the parish rosters for these teams. Congratulations are in order to St. Mary's of the Snows, Saugerties and their track coach Robert Moser for the fourth consecutive win in the annual Father Herdegen Memorial meet.

During the past week members of St. Joseph's basketball champs were feted along with other CYOers at a buffet dinner in St. Joseph's School Hall. Medals were presented to the champs and the awards for the recent CYO essay contest were made to Daniel Gaffney, John Dreiser, and Sharon Jones. Mary Rosner of St. Mary's Saugerties, winner of the Archdiocesan essay contest has been invited by His Eminence Francis Cardinal Spellman to receive an award at his residence during the coming week.

Investure ceremonies will be held at St. Peter's Church, Rosendale next Sunday to receive new members into the CYO. This is a very impressive ceremony held in the church and all are invited to attend.

Miss Maureen Rice, chairman of the judges for the upstate finals of the high school division of the One Act Play contest announced that St. Peter's, Liberty was selected to represent Upstate New York in the Archdiocesan One Act Play Contest with their prize winning play "Sure as You're Born," a comedy by Donald Peyton. Gold CYO medals were awarded to William Vaughn of Orange County for the best male actor and to Miss Mary Ann Di Cambio for the best female portrayal. Judges for the contest, all members of the Coach House Players were, Mrs. Edward Finn, Miss Madeline Reis, Mrs. William Engelen, Miss Margaret Mellert, and Miss Maureen Rice.

Thomas Auringer of St. Peter's, Kingston, track squad, broke all previous records in CYO competition for his throw of 39 feet 1 inch in the shot put. Bruce Ackert of St. Mary's, Kingston won three first place medals for Class A 50-yard dash; 200-yard run and the broad jump. Anthony Gambino of Saugerties also had three first places in Class B, 75-yard dash, low hurdles and broad jump. Auringer also paced the field in the C 75-yard dash. William Mahoney, chairman of the Herdegen meet was elated to see the unusually large number of parents and others on hand to witness the annual track event.

Victim of Worst Snake Has Recovery Chance

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Snake handler Kenneth Earnest, 22, bitten by one of the world's deadliest snakes, is slowly improving and now has a good chance to live, his doctor said today.

An Australian tiger snake bit him six days ago at a reptile farm operated by his parents, and he was paralyzed.

He has been in an iron lung since Friday. Dr. Findlay S. Russell, animal venom expert and chief of a medical team working on the case at General Hospital, said whether or not he will be able to breathe outside the iron lung has not been determined, but tests indicate the breathing muscles were not completely damaged.

The snake's venom is said to be 50 to 70 times deadlier than that of the diamond back rattler.

4 County Families Cited for Fifteen Years Foster Care

Twenty six foster families — four from Ulster County—were cited for completing 15 years or more of foster care for dependent children at a luncheon given in their honor Sunday afternoon at Gramercy Park Hotel, New York City.

The luncheon was given by the Catholic Home Bureau for Dependent Children.

The foster parents being honored have cared for 355 foster children in an aggregate of 430 years while raising 47 of their own children.

The local families are: Miss Jane Glover, 17 Jansen Avenue, Kingston, who cared for 13 foster children for a period of 15 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman W. Stay, Quarryville, Town of Saugerties, 13 foster children in 15 years. They have six of their own.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Keenan, Barclay Heights, six foster children for 15 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lewis, Peak Road, Stone Ridge, 27 foster children for 18 years. They have one child of their own.

The Rev. G. Howard Moore, executive director of Catholic Home Bureau presented a plaque of the Holy Family to each foster mother.

The Catholic Home Bureau, an affiliate agency of New York Catholic Charities, is in its 61st year of providing care for dependent or neglected children through placement in adoptive or boarding homes.

Driver Fined $25, Two Men Held on Firearms Charges

Joseph Jenkins, 52, of 363 Wilbur Avenue, charged with having left the scene after the car he drove hit another on Henry Street, earlier this month, paid a $25 fine in city court today.

City Judge Aaron E. Klein, gave him the choice of the fine or 15 days in jail and suspended a sentence of 30 days. The charge brings an automatic revocation of license.

Attorney James J. Abernethy appeared for the defendant and Francis J. Vogt for the district attorney's office.

Hearing on charges alleging that two young men discharged firearms within the city limits was put over to early June.

The two, Stephen Miller, 24, of 130 O'Neil Street, and Vincent Bouck, 21, of 486 Wilbur Avenue, were booked on the charges Sunday, after police were notified that rifles were being fired in the Murphy Street area. Attorney William Curran, of Rosendale, appeared for both. They are under $100 bail each.

Woodstock Area News

LISA TIANO, Correspondent

Democratic Club Re-Elects Raymond Kenyon as President

Ray Kenyon, associate professor in English and History at State University in New Paltz, has been re-elected president of the Woodstock Democratic Club.

A former science teacher who has authored several books in that field, Kenyon has been engaged in political activity for many years.

Other officers named were: Mrs. Betty Beisele, vice president; Milton Collins, recording secretary; and Mrs. Bertha Krieger, treasurer.

Club members adopted a program of eight monthly meetings during the year. There will be four business meetings and four of a socio-educational nature. The first of the latter type is scheduled at Henry Miller's Camp Camelot on June 17.

Set Rummage Sale

Date of the annual rummage sale was set for the July 4th weekend at a place to be announced later. Co-chairmen for the rummage sale, one of the finest held in the township each year, will be Mrs. Bohumir Larys and Mrs. George St. Pierre. Details will be announced later.

The treasurer's report indicated the club is in good financial condition.

Looking ahead to the congressional and county elections in the fall, the club has arranged a rally featuring Gore Vidal, Barrytown playwright who is running for Congress in this district, on October 14. All other candidates will attend and indications are it will be the biggest Democratic rally ever held in the township.

Music Spring Festival Set At Woodstock School May 27

The annual Music Spring Festival of the Woodstock School will take place on Friday and Saturday, May 27-28, at 7:30 p. m. in the school auditorium. On both nights, "The American Parade" which was so widely acclaimed last year, will be performed by the elementary pupils. Last year's brilliant production was called "a classic in its kind... high in value, both as entertainment and educational experience."

"The American Parade," written and directed by H. A. Schimmerling, of the Ontario Central School music department, was beautifully performed by youngsters in grades 2 to 6 and was acclaimed as a masterpiece of interpretation by pupils on that level. The same grades will perform this year and Prof. Schimmerling has added new touches designed to make the 1960 production even better than the original.

The composition is in two parts: 1. History on Parade (from Walter Raleigh to Thomas A. Edison); 2. The Parade of the 50 States (from Virginia to Hawaii).

The performances will be under the direction of the composer, Mrs. Joseph Steinlauf will be stage director, assisted by Mrs. Gordon Anderson. Other ladies of the Festival Committee include Margaret Wetterau, costumes; Mrs. Harrison Muller (choreography) and Mrs. Herbert Lent, props.

Committees Set For Library Fair

Without revealing too many well-guarded secrets, Library Fair chairman, Arthur Hansen, has named Mrs. Gordon Anderson, Mrs. Thomas Horsey, Mrs. George Laws, Mrs. Malcolm Rose and Mrs. Gordon Taylor members of the Library Fair Steering Committee. Any able bodied man, woman or child willing and wishing to help with the fair is urged to report to anyone on the Steering Committee to receive instructions, get his or her bearings right now.

Here is one extra-curricular no one can avoid. It may be work but it is a lot of fun and Woodstockers will soon see more activity here.

Mrs. Alvin Moscovitz and Mrs. Charles Goodrich are co-chairmen of Great Expectations this year. Woodstock will soon see some activity here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Balk have worked up a theme for Great Expectations and the Fair which is not only appropriate but colorful, charming and universally appealing.

Center Is Busy

By now most Woodstockers have met the chairmen at the Library Fair collection center behind the library proper. Meaning, of course, Mrs. George St. Pierre and Mrs. Stephen Barr. These ebullient ladies will be only too happy to relieve you of any useful impedimenta now cluttering up your living space. The collection center is open each Saturday from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Chairman Hansen promises to give all Fair chairmen plenty of advance notice for the early June meeting. There are many new ideas and features in the hopper this year, so there's bound to be a lot popping come Fair Day, Thursday, July 28 at 11 a. m. If the weather man plays fair, there will be no need to postpone the excitement until the next day! Mrs. Joseph Steinlauf will be spreading the news, so watch the newspapers for further announcement.

Medicine Works Magic With Music

The first concert of the Hans Cohn Music Foundation on May 14 was a memorial to Woodstock's late physician and promoter of chamber music. It also reminded this writer of the interesting link between music and medicine, previously mentioned in this column.

Fielding H. Garrison mentions Felix Platter (1536-1614) of Switzerland as the first medical doctor who also was known as a musician. Athanasius Kircher of Fulda, Germany (1602-80), medical doctor, wrote the "Musurgia Universalis" in which he covers the entire field of music theory including notations of the songs of birds. In 1679 the Danish physician, Caspar Bartholin, published a study of woodwind instruments and Hermann Boerhaave of Leyden (1668-1738) was perhaps the first known physician that cultivated chamber music in his own home. Vienna's famous Leopold Auenbrugger (died in the same year as Haydn—1809); discoverer of chest percussion for diagnostic purposes wrote the libretto to Salieri's opera "The Chimney Sweep."

John Arbuthnot (1667-1735), friend and family doctor of the English poet, Pope, composed sacred music. Likewise in England, William Withering (1741-99), the first one to use digitalis in some cases of heart diseases, was an accomplished performer on the harpsichord and the flute. The case of Helmholtz is too well known to be discussed in detail. Theodor Wilhelm Engelmann, great contributor to the physiology of the heart muscle, was the devoted friend of Johannes Brahms. And so was Theodore Billroth, one of the greatest names in surgery. He was an outstanding chamber musician. Karl Theodor, Duke of Bavaria, was a well known ophthalmologist and member of an orchestra.

Borodin List

One of the Great Five of the Russian school, Alexander Borodin, composer of Prince Igor, was surgeon in the Russian army. Robert Christison of Edinburgh (born in the same year as Franz Schubert), wrote the first treatise on toxicology in English. "He had a bass voice of unusual power and good quality... people regarded him as an authority on music." In the "Music Quarterly" of October, 1921, Dr. Adam Kun of Philadelphia is mentioned as the first American musician-doctor "who attended Governor Penn's musical gatherings in Colonial times." In the findings of F. H. Garrison appear such names as Dr. John W. Farlow, librarian of the Boston Medical Library and pianist; the American medical doctors of German descent, Dr. Christian

SUBMARINE MAKES HISTORY—Framed by 48-star U. S. flag on Navy tug, the nuclear submarine Triton arrives back in New London, Conn., after its 82-day underwater voyage around the globe. The 448-foot craft is the largest sub in world.

Herter, Jacques Loeb, Arpad G. Gerster, Sidney Kuh, D'Orsey Hecht, Otto Juettner, Gustav Langmann, who have been performing musician and even composers.

Alfred de Bary, once professor of psychiatry, sang in the Bayreuth Festival and in Munich. Even with such names added as Mikulicz, Neisser and Albert Schweitzer the list of musician doctors would not be complete. One of the greatest of our times is certainly Schweitzer, the humanitarian, the physician, the philosopher, the writer, the musician; one of the finest and authority on Johann Sebastian Bach.

Let me conclude with this rather humorous episode. In 1922, one of Vienna's well known dentists, Dr. Lothar Lenkey, who had a beautiful tenor voice, gave his first public recital. After that, one of Vienna's leading music critics had this to say: "Dr. Lenkey is probably the best tenor among Vienna's dentists and probably the finest dentist among all of Vienna's tenors." ... H. A. Schimmering

League to Give Active Support To Court Reform

At the recent council meeting of the League of Women Voters in Schenectady, it was unanimously decided to give active support to the Erwin-Lounsbury court reorganization bill, as passed by the last session of the state legislature.

The council meets in even numbered years and is composed of the president and one board member from each league throughout the state. The Woodstock League of Women Voters was ably represented by Mrs. Kermit Schwartz and Mrs. Alvin Moscovitz.

Reorganization of the courts of New York State has been an intense study by the League for the past four years. Although the Erwin-Lounsbury resolution did not contain all that the League has been fighting for, significant improvements were made, so as to prompt state League President Mrs. Frankel, to say that it was "the first big step in achieving a modern court system for the state. The League of Women Voters will, however, continue to work for additional improvements in the reorganization of our courts to achieve a more completely modernized court structure."

The Erwin-Lounsbury Concurrent Resolution, proposing a new Judiciary Article to the state constitution, received first legislative passage in 1959. It was revised and re-passed in 1960. It must now be approved by the legislature meeting in 1961, and then by the people at referendum before it becomes part of the state constitution.

THE RUINS ARE BEHIND THEM—Survivors of the earthquake which hit Lar, Iran, set up camp on a hill overlooking the ruined city. At least 2,000 of the city's 17,000 persons died in the quake April 24. Day after day more bodies are recovered.

Town Notes

A musical "Oolalaga U" in two acts, will be presented by the Senior and Junior classes of the Ontario Central School at the school auditorium at Boiceville on Thursday and Friday evenings May 26-27. Tickets are being sold by members of the two classes and all seats are reserved.

State aid in the amount of $3,622.77 has been received by the Town of Woodstock from the office of State Comptroller Arthur Levitt. The sum is the quarterly payment of the per capita assistance to all communities in the state. Kingston got $51,375.93; Saugerties, $14,005.53 and Olive, $1,298.41. Hurley's share was $3,029.92.

First Exhibition

The Woodstock Artists Association begins its summer exhibitions with an active members all-media show opening at 4 p. m. Saturday, May 28. Work is due at the gallery on Thursday, May 26, between 2 and 5 p. m.

Members of the Woodstock Reformed Church have switched the date of their annual Old Dutch Fair to Saturday, Aug. 13. This all day event is one of the outstanding features of the Woodstock summer season.

Elect Morse

Richard Morse has been re-elected president of the Woodstock Heights Property Association. Mrs. Edith Swenson was named vice president; Jack Hammer, secretary-treasurer. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rosenblum who have just returned from Florida.

Turkey Extending College Shutdown To Prevent Riots

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The shutdown of Turkish colleges and universities has been extended to the fall and new restrictions have been imposed on the capital to check anti-government demonstrations.

Students have been in the forefront of the campaign against the strongarm rule of Premier Adnan Menderes. They have succeeded in rousing only scattered support from the public.

College classes, suspended for a month on April 28 following violent student uprisings, were due to resume this weekend. Instead the government Sunday night extended the closure order to July 28, a month after Turkish schools normally close for the summer.

Schools for the training of teachers were exempted. The Cabinet did not make clear whether the shutdown applied to the Turkish army war college, whose cadets paraded three hours Saturday in sympathy with the anti-government student demonstrators.

Martial law was tightened in Ankara to turn the capital of 500,000 persons into a virtual ghost city at night.

The curfew was extended from 5 to 9 hours, sale of liquor was banned from 4 to 11 p.m., and more than 5 persons were prohibited from even walking together "on any pretext."

Everyone is required to carry identity cards at all times.

The military governor of the capital, Lt. Gen. Namek Arguc, warned that future demonstrations "will be met with arms" and anyone stopping to watch them subject to immediate arrest.

He clamped a censorship on all radio, telephone and telegraph communications in and out of Ankara, but there was no interference with cables being filed by foreign newsmen.

The general is dictator of the city under martial law with powers to search homes and offices at any time. Military permission must be obtained for all gatherings, including weddings, funerals or parties.

Central Hudson Club Will Meet, To Hear Acker

About 275 veteran active and retired employees of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation from throughout the Mid-Hudson Valley will meet tonight for the fourteenth annual Central Hudson Employees Quarter Century Club dinner meeting.

Richard B. Tailleux of Kingston, club president, will preside at the meeting to be held at the utility's general offices on South Road, Poughkeepsie.

Company President and General Manager Ernest R. Acker will be the principal speaker, eight new members will be inducted, new officers will be elected and entertainment will be provided.

The club includes 388 active and retired employees who served 25 or more years with the company. Its active membership represents more than 25 percent of all Central Hudson employees.

THE ISLAND OF BERLIN—The present status of West Berlin, and its future even more precarious position, are compared in Newsmap above. The hottest point in the rapidly warming up Cold War, West Berlin once again is the target of Russian pressure. Reviving the possibility of a separate peace treaty with East Germany,

WEST BERLIN
PRESENT STATUS	Occupied by U.S., British, French troops since 1945. Has own independent, elected civil government.
POSSIBLE FUTURE	Even more isolated by pressure from East Germany, given control of Berlin through peace treaty with Russia.
EAST GERMANY
PRESENT STATUS	Formerly Soviet Zone of occupation, now called German Democratic Republic. A puppet satellite of Russia.
POSSIBLE FUTURE	Separate peace treaty with Russia would enhance status as "independent" nation, give it "right" to Berlin.
RAILROADS, HIGHWAYS
PRESENT STATUS	Run through 120 miles of East Germany. Allies guaranteed access by treaty. Russians man checkpoints.
POSSIBLE FUTURE	Control would be turned over to East Germany, which Allies would refuse to recognize. Access would be blocked.
AIR CORRIDORS
PRESENT STATUS	Flights restricted to 10,000-ft. altitude by Russia. U.S. does not formally recognize this limitation but obeys it.
POSSIBLE FUTURE	Attempts to close corridors, which saved West Berlin in 1948, would have to be made by force by East Germans.

the Soviet Union has warned that the signing of such a treaty would end Western communications rights with the city. Still going by the agreement reached at the end of World War II, which divided Berlin into east and west zones, the Allies have stated they will not recognize any Russian-made East German sovereignty.

THRIVING WEST BERLIN—Night view of the Kurfuerstendamm, West Berlin's Fifth Avenue, shows brightly lit shop windows, neon signs and busy traffic. The city's comeback from the ruins of war has been the pride of the West and a thorn in the side of the Communists.

Priest Hits Unions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Refusal of some labor unions to accept Negro members, and use of the union shop to prevent Negro workers from getting employment, was described at a meeting here by the Rev. John F. Cronin, a Roman Catholic social action expert, as "immoral and intolerable."

Likens Ministers to Messengers

Khrushchev Contradicts Self And Keeps on With Reception

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twice in two years Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev demanded a summit conference; twice he blew it up. He said only the heavyweights could settle anything; now he's compromising for the heavyweights' messengers.

Two years ago he balked at doing business in the United Nations Security Council because he said it was loaded in America's favor; now he's going to the council which is still loaded in America's favor.

In 1958 when this country sent troops into Lebanon to defend it, Khrushchev demanded a summit meeting, finally agreed to hold it in the Security Council.

The council is made up of 11 nations. It has five permanent members: the United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union, and the pro-American Nationalist Chinese. Some of the other six always have been, and still are, pro-American, thus giving this country a majority.

One week before the meeting Khrushchev called it off, saying the lineup was rigged on the American side.

Soon he was crusading for another summit meeting, this time outside the Security Council. President Eisenhower said the Big Four's foreign ministers would have to meet first to lay the groundwork.

Khrushchev agreed but said it was a waste of time. He talked of the ministers as if they were messengers for the big men, which in a sense they are. He said they couldn't do much because only the heavyweights can settle things.

Eventually he got agreement to hold his summit conference and then last Monday blew that one up too, with bitter words about the American U2 spy plane down over the Soviet Union.

Now he is charging this country with aggression and demanding that the U2 case go before the Security Council, which meets today. The heavyweights won't be there. Only their representatives will.

But Khrushchev not only contradicts himself; he repeats himself.

This year, after breaking up the summit meeting, he excited the West by announcing he would stop off in Communist East Germany on the way home. He did. But he did the same thing after the summit conference in 1955.

When he first demanded — in November 1958 — that the Allies get their troops out of West Berlin, he gave them a six-month deadline. That would have been in May 1959.

But by March 1959, when the Allies said they wouldn't budge, he said he wasn't putting a deadline on Berlin at all. He said: "It is not settled in six months, let it be settled in seven."

That sounds like what he said this year. After exploding last week's summit conference he said another could be held in six to eight months.

Chicken livers, browned in butter, make one of the most delicious garnishes for poached or shirred eggs. Or cut the livers in strips and cook in butter with onion strips, then use as the filling for an omelet.

Reports Are Heard On Activities of Ahavath Group

At the regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of Congregation Ahavath Israel on May 9, heard reports of the year's activities. The affairs sponsored by the Men's Club were arranged to provide social, religious, cultural and financial assistance to the members of the Congregation.

Outstanding were the dance and cabaret, the Father and Child breakfast and Prayer Service, the Friday night Men's Club service, the chicken fry and the annual auction.

Also on May 9 the annual election of officers was held. Those who will direct the functions of the Men's Club for the next two years are: President, Dr. George Braunstein; vice presidents, Lou Goldstein, Sandy Gossett and Harold Gollop; secretary-treasurer, Marty Netburn.

The outgoing president, George Muller, was given a vote of thanks as a tribute to his successful administration.

On June 10, at the Friday night services in the synagogue a formal installation of new officers will be conducted.

Cuban Catholics Told to Fight Reds

HAVANA (AP)—Cuba's Roman Catholics were told to fight communism in a pastoral letter that sources close to high church authorities said today was issued as a feeler to test the reaction of the Castro government.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro has charged that anti-communism is a smokescreen thrown up by those bent on ruining his revolution.

It was the Catholic Church's first open attack on Communism inside Cuba since Castro took over.

Students in Tokyo Try to Storm Kishi

TOKYO (AP) — Heavy police guards braved a shower of stones today to break up a new attempt by nearly 1,000 university students to storm Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's official residence.

It was the second attack in four days on the residence by the Zengakuren National Students Federation in its campaign to bring down the Kishi government and wreck the new U.S.-Japan security pact.

Housing Limited For HV Firemen's Parley June 16-18

MONTICELLO — Housing facilities in the immediate Monticello area are being taxed to the limit by firemen and guests scheduled to attend the annual Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Convention, here June 16-18.

One hundred twenty-five companies from the 16 county association have notified the Monticello Company they will participate in the parade. Forty-five auxiliary units will march with their volunteers and 78 musical organizations are scheduled to march.

Firemen Edward Richardson, liaison officer between Monticello and the association estimated this week that more than 8,000 will march in the five hour parade.

The convention will officially get underway Thursday morning, June 16 with headquarters in the Monticello Inn and the convention sessions to be held in the Monticello High School.

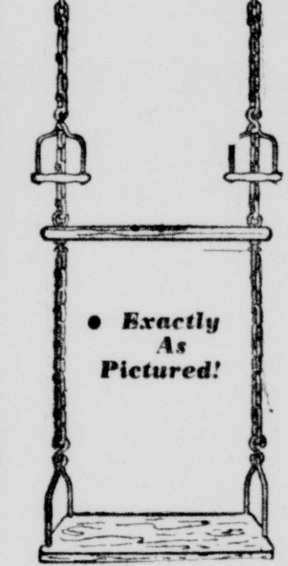

Memorial services will be held during the session with special tribute to be paid to Association Chaplain, the Rev. J. Benjamin Meyers of Fishkill, Mark Rosenthal of Hudson and Samuel A. Fowl of Watervliet, both honorary directors, who died during the past year.

Delegates, fire companies and musical organizations wishing reservations are urged to contact Ralph Meyer, housing chairman at once, so that housing can be provided.

Volunteers in the Hudson Valley are also reminded that in order to participate in the convention agenda which includes a full program of meetings, entertainment and eats, they must have filed their membership applications prior to May 30.

Officials explained that this does not mean firemen have to be association members in order to participate in the parade. Membership is for meetings and other functions.

Rescue Squad To Be Formed By Area Vols

Formation of an area rescue squad will be discussed at the regular meeting of the Firemen's Association of the Township of Rosendale Tuesday 8 p. m. at the Cottekill Firehouse.

The guest speaker will be Harold L. Ray of the Ellenville Rescue Squad. He has had varied experience with rescue squads and will assist the association in forming a squad for the area.

The Rondout Valley Lions Club, Norman Wilson, president, announced that the Lions Club will sponsor a first-aid course in connection with rescue squad work. A course of six to eight weeks, one night a week, would be necessary for rescue crews.

Another Lions club member will donate a truck to help the area speed up rescue squad work. The five fire companies of the association, Binnewater, Bloomington, Cottekill, Rosendale and Tilton will be present at the meeting. Invited as guests are the Rondout Valley Lions Club; Jesse Williams, High Falls fire chief, and the Rev. David W. Arnold, Stone Ridge fire chief.

Fred Sauer, president of the Bloomington Fire Company, said the films of the association fire drills will be ready for the meeting in June. At this time, program chairman Chief Oscar Hahn with other company officers will discuss the films at length.

All vols may attend.

Nation Will Need 600 Billion Gallons of Water Daily by '80

By CHARLES R. DOUGLAS
Freeman Staff Writer

This is the 19th in a series of articles on the 1950 attempts of Dr. Wallace E. Howell, climatologist, to gain New York City a safe supply of water after a long drought.

We might think often that it doesn't rain enough, as millions did in the months prior to first rainmaking attempts in this area, but on a nationwide basis we seem to be getting a helpful share, even though it is not all going in directions to be of most benefit to man.

An average of 30 inches of rain a year falls on the United States, says the publication Construction in its May 2 issue, and this precipitation "remains relatively constant. Therefore the fresh water supply is relatively fixed."

This fixed amount, it notes, "averages about 4,300 billion gallons a day. However 70 per cent of this is returned each day to the sky by evaporation, and by the breathing and perspiring of plants, animals and man. Of the 1,200 billion gallons remaining, half runs off as flood water to the sea, and an increasing share of that which is left is spoiled by pollution."

Consumption Goes Up

"An average of 515 billion gallons per day is kept available for use in lakes and streams," Fresh water use in 1900, it says, was 41 billion gallons per day, but to give you an idea of what has been going on more recently, besides Dr. Howell's big experiments in the clouds, it reveals that "in 1945, at the crest of industrial effort required by World War 2, the country used 160 billion gallons per day."

In 1957, it was noted, the nation got to using 270 billion gallons of water daily, and it forecasts that by 1980 our water needs will total nearly 600 billion gallons per day, "exceeding the predicted supply of 515 billion gallons unless conservation and control methods are put into effect promptly."

Industry Uses Most

Industry appears to be wetting its wheels and whistles, using the most, "100 billion gallons per day at present." Irrigation needs (but apparently is not always getting) 120 billion gallons, and that needed for municipal and domestic supply is 20 billion gallons daily. This 260 billion gallon total today will be increased to 598 billion gallons per day by 1980, the U. S. Public Health Service's division of water supply and pollution control estimates.

Heavy industrial population and industrial growth in the Middle Atlantic area, said the article, has attracted the attention of U. S. engineers, who are conducting the previously mentioned series of hearings on tapping and control of the Delaware River. It was also noted that Maryland and the District of Columbia have men working on a control program for the Potomac.

Will Watch New York

New York City for more than half a century has been working steadily to gain a large share of its water needs from the upper Delaware River basin, and it still tries for more. Its future moves, however, will be more closely eyed by the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin (INCODEL) and on some distant day it might move elsewhere to gain resources for the future.

The Delaware, says the Constructioner, "drains a relatively long and narrow area in the northeastern United States, running 265 miles from the western slopes of the Catskill Mountains in New York to the Atlantic Ocean at the mouth of Delaware Bay lying between Cape May in New Jersey and Cape Henlopen in Delaware. The basin width varies from 40 to 80 miles."

In area it is less than 1 per cent of that of the nation, but it contains about 13 per cent of its population and 14 per cent of its labor force. The basin's water resources "furnish about 3.5 billion gallons each day. Population and employment in the service area will more than double over the next 50 years, requiring 14 billion gallons per day. The basin supplies water for New York City, and will be expanded to furnish water to the New York metropolitan area, Lehigh area, Trenton-Philadelphia areas, Wilmington and Delaware Bay and Atlantic coastal communities."

The 50-year program, it reveals, not only envisions expanded water supply, but will result also in flood control works for the valley, and will be coordinated with pollution controls. Eleven major projects are planned."

YMCA News

Kingston Hi-Y Clubs held their fourth annual Hi-Y installation of officers this week at the Kingston YMCA.

Frank Robolio, Youth Secretary, was master of ceremonies. James Rundle of the Bookwalter Hi-Y opened the program with a prayer. Leslie Lawrence of the Abend Star Hi-Y addressed the group on the topic "What's Hi-Y." Robolio introduced Donald B. Calderwood, member of the youth committee who spoke to the parents on their outlook on children and the YMCA role in working with these youths.

Franklin H. Hazzard, assistant superintendent of schools in Kingston spoke on "Who Is Thy Neighbor?"

New officers elected were: Bookwalter Hi-Y Club John Roberts, president; Robert Whiston, vice president; Jeffrey Davis, secretary; William McDermott, treasurer; James Rundle, chaplain and Robert Ploss, Sergeant-at-Arms.

Champion Frog

ANGELES CAMP, Calif. (AP) —Tule Pete of the United States won the jumping frog contest here with a three-leap total of 13 feet 2½ inches.

The gold medalist was owned and coached by 9-year-old Brian Basacker of Sonoma, Calif.

Tule Jack, owned by Brian's 7-year-old brother Tommy, was second at 12-9½ and Untouchable, owned by Carolyn Voitch, 15, of Stockton, Calif., was third at 12-1.

They beat a field of frogs from New Jersey and a dozen foreign countries.

New York State Fair

An "all-free" grandstand show with top names from the entertainment world will be featured again at the New York State Fair. This was announced last night by Harold L. Creal, Fair director. The nine-day Fair opens Friday, Sept. 2. The "no cost" twice-a-day show with Broadway, Television and Hollywood stars was introduced for the first time last year and its acceptance by the Fair-going public is recorded in the all-time high attendance mark of 517,776.

Wife Sticks to Law

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) —When police responded to a hurry-up call Sunday night a housewife told them her husband was drunk and she wanted him arrested.

But a man cannot be arrested for being drunk in his own home, the officers explained.

She picked the man up, carried him into the street and dumped him.

"He's in a public street now, arrest him!" she said.

So they booked him at city jail.

Continental Baseball League Founder to Be in Kingston

William A. Shea Slated to Speak At Rotary Club

William A. Shea, the founder of the Continental League and chairman of Mayor Wagner's Baseball committee, will speak at the Kingston Rotary Club Wednesday noon. The Brooklyn resident is being brought here as a guest of Harry M. Thayer, who will serve as program chairman for the day.

The dynamic founder of baseball's third major league will be asked to lay it on the line on the following subjects:

1. People say that the Continental League will never get off the ground.
2. What are the 10 requirements the Major Leagues and Ford Frick are insisting the Continental League meet before the Majors will cooperate?
3. Is the Kefauver Bill fair and is the Continental League behind it?
4. Who are the people behind the Continental League?

The guest speaker was born in Manhattan on June 21, 1907. He attended various public schools, Newton High School and George Washington High School in the City of New York. He also attended New York University, Georgetown College and received both a football and basketball scholarship to attend the Georgetown University School of Law. He was admitted to the Bar of the District of Columbia in 1931 and to the New York State Bar in 1932.

Upon graduation from Law School, he was employed by the firm of Davis, Polk, Wardell, Gardiner and Read, New York City, and later by Cullen and Dykman, Brooklyn. In 1934, Mr. Shea was appointed First Counsel to the Liquidation Bureau of the State Banking department.

Starts Own Firm

In 1935 he was appointed attorney of record for New York Title and Mortgage Company and subsequently assistant General Counsel to the Superintendent of Insurance of the State of New York. In 1941 he joined William D. Tucker in the firm of Tucker and Shea which was dissolved in 1950 when Mr. Shea formed the firm of Manning, Hollinger and Shea.

Mayor Wagner, in 1954, appointed Mr. Shea a trustee of the Brooklyn Public Library and in 1955 he was appointed a member of the permanent advisory committee to the President of the Borough of Manhattan.

Was Made Chairman

In 1957 Mayor Wagner formed his baseball committee to endeavor to bring a competitive major league baseball team back to New York and Mr. Shea was made chairman of this committee.

He is a member of the Brooklyn, New York County, New York State and American Bar Associations; the Catholic Lawyers Guild, Lawyers Club of Brooklyn and New York. He is also a member of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick, the Emerald Assn. and the Irish American Historical Society; the Knights of Columbus and the Cathedral Club of Brooklyn. He is a past president of the Georgetown University Alumni Assn., a member of the New York University Alumni Assn. and Zeta Psi Alumni Club. He is a member of the Montauk Club of Brooklyn and the Manhattan Club of New York City. Mr. Shea is also an honorary member of and counsel to the Honor Legion of the City of New York.

He is an officer and director of various construction, pharmaceutical and manufacturing corporations.

He is married to the former May Nora Shaw. They have three children, William Jr., Kathy Ann and Patricia Ann.

Open to Public

The Rotary meeting on Wednesday is open to the public and Rotarians and all service clubs are invited to bring guests.

Newspapers and radio from the Hudson Valley area will cover the event and WRGB of Schenectady will also cover it.

There will be a question and answer period and Shea will also hold a press conference with writers and announcers.

Tigers Bench Rocky Colavito For Not Hitting

DETROIT (AP) — Just five weeks ago slugger Rocky Colavito was hailed as the cure to everything that ailed the Detroit Tigers.

Sunday Colavito, reigning co-king of American League home run hitters, rode the bench while Detroit gave indications it was beginning to get well.

Manager Jimmie Dykes, in the solitude of his hotel room Saturday night, decided to bench his slugger. Colavito had hit safely only once in his last 20 at bats. His batting average had shrunk to .161. He had only one homer and four runs batted in 21 games.

"It was a move I had to make," explained Dykes after the Tigers swept a doubleheader from Boston 5-2 and 6-2 Sunday.

Dykes had said he'd let Colavito remain in the lineup and work his way out of the slump.

"But I got to thinking about it," said Dykes. "I was watching something on television called 'Have Gun, Will Travel' when I made up my mind. It was the only thing to do."

Colavito received a thunderous welcome from Detroit fans after the momentous trade that brought him from Cleveland for batting champion Harvey Kuenn on the eve of the season. Then the tailspin set in.

Colavito, supremely confident he'd start hitting soon throughout his prolonged slump, was slightly shaken at his benching.

"Jimmie is the boss," he said. "I'll do what he says. I don't like to sit. No player does."

"But Jimmie is a prince and he's trying to help me. I don't know what I'm doing wrong, so I'll go along with him. Besides, you can't argue with the results."

Dykes said Colavito would remain benched when the New York Yankees come to town Tuesday.

Dave Marr Winner Of First Tourney

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP)—Dave Marr, a Texan chockful of golfing background, rejoins the touring pros today with his first tournament victory on his first full swing of the dollar circuit.

The 26-year-old Houston native made his mark in the Sam Snead festival Sunday a distinguished one. He finished in front of the runnerup, Babe Lichardus of Grossinger, N.Y., by 7 strokes for $2,000 first money.

Marr, the son of a golf professional and cousin of Jack Burke Jr., banged out a final score of 64, six under par, after three straight 67s. His total of 265 was 15 under par on two courses measuring 6,497 and 6,327 yards.

It was the 16th tournament for Marr this year and before humbling the host Snead and 60 other pros his best finish was fourth at San Diego. His next stop is the Indianapolis 500 Speedway Tournament this week.

Snead could do no better than fourth place in the tournament he has won five times. Sam was nine strokes off the pace set by Marr.

Fights Last Night

Havana — Mantequillas Napole, 130, Cuba, outpointed Robinson Garcia, 134, Cuba, 10.

Nogales, Mexico — Cisco Andrade, 139, Los Angeles, knocked out Antone Contreras, 137, Nogales, 5.

Preakness Champ Wants More Action

BALTIMORE (AP) — Before Bally Ache gives the equine version of the belly laugh and claims 3-year-old racing honors, the Preakness winner has a few more finish lines to cross.

The next stop for the bay colt, who was second in the Kentucky Derby to Venetian Way, will be the $100,000 Jersey Derby at Garden State Park on Memorial Day. Then on to the $125,000 Belmont, last of the Derby-Preakness-Belmont triple-crown series, on June 11.

In both races, Bally Ache will face some of the same opposition he whipped by four lengths or more in the Preakness. In addition, Tompion will be back in action after a short rest.

Tompion was favored in the Derby, but threw a shoe and wound up fourth. His hoof was damaged slightly by a nail, so Tompion missed the Preakness. Earlier this year, the son of Tom Fool won the Santa Anita Derby and the Blue Grass Stakes.

The Turfand Inc. syndicate, which purchased Bally Ache for $125,000 on May 14, has set its sights on Round Table's all-time money-winning record of $1,749,889.

Bally Ache already has hauled down $664,527, including $121,000 from the Preakness Saturday.

Potter, Melnick Combine For No-Hitter in Esopus

Sterling Potter and John Melnick combined to hurl a no-hitter Saturday as the Town of Esopus Indians stopped the Giants, 7-4. The winning hurlers walked eight batters between them and sent 11 down on strikes.

The winners managed only three safeties off the slants of three Giant pitchers. Potter and Mike Mott stroked doubles.

The Indians tallied twice in the first and five times in the second before being blanked the rest of the way.

The line score:

Indians	....	2	5	0	0	0	0	7	3
Giants	....	2	0	2	0	0	0	4	0

Orlando Landi, Frank Montfina, Clint Elting and Rick Ahearn; Sterling Potter, John Melnick and Ray Sperle.

Owls, Wrens Win Jaycee Contests

Pushing across the winning run in the last of the seventh, the Owls nipped the Jays, 5-4, in Jaycee Little League action on Saturday.

In another tilt, the Wrens whitewashed the Hawks, 9-0, behind the fancy hurling of Jan Vel.

Jack Schatzel and Mike Modica combined to no-hit the Jays until the sixth inning. Then with the bases loaded, Mike Burns blasted a grand slam home run to rightfield. That knotted the score and sent the tilt into extra innings.

Modica was credited with the win while Fred Vandusen absorbed the loss.

Jordan Pauker and Schatzel hit doubles and Burns had the only home run.

Vel limited the Hawks to only two hits and slammed a double and single to aid his cause as the Wrens won easily. This contest was called after the fourth inning.

Starter Jay Falvey took the loss and he was relieved by Mike Higgins and Bruce Gilligan.

Jeff Sperling had the other extra base hit for the winners, a long double.

The line scores:

Jays	.....	0	0	0	4	0	—	4	2
Owls	.....	1	0	0	1	—	5	5

Mike Burns, Fred Vandusen and Ed Argulewicz; Jack Schatzel, Mike Modica and Bill Miller.

Badman Golf Champion Of Entertainers

YORBA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — Television badman Bob Wilke is the new golf champion of the entertainment world.

Wilke finished the two-day celebrity tournament Sunday with a 75-74-149 and a three-stroke edge over defending champion Bob Sterling and TV's Pat Harrington.

Such Stars as Guy Madison, Danny Thomas and Bob Hope were well down the list.

Jeff Sperling had the other extra base hit for the winners, a long double.

The line scores:

Jays	.....	0	0	0	4	0	—	4	2

Dover Plains In Lead

A 765-average squad from Dover Plains shot nearly 300 pins over its entered average to lead the $3700 Rip Van Winkle Handicap Classic's first weekend at the Ferraro Bowlerama.

Busa's Trucking rolled a 2591 net and 3296 gross to take the early lead for the $1,000 first prize in the gross division.

Town House, a 677 average combine from Pleasant Valley, grossed 2823 to pace the women's division.

IBM Rockets of Kingston are second in the men's gross division with 3235, followed by the Kingston's Patrolmen's Association with 3223. Mahanilton Sand Baggers of Kingston lead the net department with 2804.

Five Ramblers of New Paltz rolled 2770 for second place in the women's gross shooting, with The Bel-Aires of Schenectady third in gross with 2734 and first in net with 2317.

Bruce Bibbins of Albany rolled 659 individual high series and Virgil Minnick of Kingston has high solo of 259. Women's individual leaders are: Rose Sinco, Middletown, 567; and Lolly Milburn of Middletown and Dora Gordon of Schenectady tied 205's.

Applications Ready

For Met Loop Players

Applications for team membership for the Metropolitan Baseball League will be available tonight and tomorrow, 6 p. m. at Metropolitan Park. New applicants will report to the park on Greenkill Avenue and South Clinton intersection Wednesday and Thursday.

Koenig Athletic Club, sponsor of the league, has added two more teams this season for a total of six.

Sit Down

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Here's some advice for the complete angler—sit down when you fish!

The advice comes from an outdoor manufacturing concern which points out that a fish has vision from directly overhead to 37 degrees above the surface.

So, it follows that a standing fisherman will fall into this range of watery vision. But a sitting piscator has a better than even chance of remaining unseen and offers less opportunity to "spook" the fish.

Casting from a sitting position may be harder . . . but it may mean more on the stringer, too.

Rookie Sets Mark At Indianapolis

By DALE BURGESS
Associated Press Sports Writer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Jim Hurtubise, 27-year-old graduate of county fair dirt tracks, was applauded by speed fans today as the hottest rookie at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway since George Souders won the 1927 Memorial Day race on his first attempt.

But Hurtubise, who powered Speedway qualifying records Sunday, will have to pass 22 cars in next Monday's 44th 500-mile race if he equals Souders' feat.

The Lennox, Calif., Coast Guard veteran cranked the 10-mile record up to a fantastic 149.066 miles an hour and had a best lap at 149.601. Nobody before had driven the ancient, relatively flat-banked track at even 148.

In spite of the feat, Hurtubise will have to line up next Monday behind the 22 cars that were qualified the previous weekend. The first starter will be Eddie Sachs, Allentown, Pa., who held the qualifying record for a week at 146.592.

Wind and rain halted trials completely Saturday and showers closed the track for more than four hours of the seven-hour final period Sunday. Twenty cars were left in line when the track closed.

The final 33-car field had a record qualifying average of 144.070 miles an hour. The previous high was 143.445 in 1958.

Onteora Golfers Rout New Paltz Squad, 16-2

Jay Gordon and David Dear, fired 39's to pace Onteora Central's golf squad to a 16 to 2 victory over New Central, the first triumph for Coach Walter S. Van Wageningen's first-year squad.

Lewis Berryman and Edward Varney also scored shutout victories for the Onteora swingers. Six individual matches were played with Nassau points divided between the first five and last four holes.

The results:
Jay Gordon (39), OCS, defeated George Majeska (52), NP, 3 to 0.

David Dean (39), OCS, defeated Ken Decker (48), NP, 3 to 0.

John Gordon (50), OCS, and Joe Ronk (48), NP, halved their match, 1½ to 1½.

Jay Van Wageningen (41), OCS, defeated Frank Graey (49), NP, 2½ to 1½.

Lewis Berryman (47), OCS, defeated John Babb, (60), NP, 3 to 0.

Edward Varney (53), OCS, defeated David Salkever (57), NP, 3 to 0.

Collins Captures Hot Springs Title

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Bill Collins figured it would take two 68s on the final rounds to win the Hot Springs Open Golf Tournament. He shot a 68 and a 69 and walked off with $2,800 first money Sunday.

Collins' 72-hole total of 275 was 13 under par and three strokes ahead of Pete Cooper, Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico, who finished with 278.

Collins, 31, went into the 36-hole finale tied with Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La., at 138. Hebert predicted victory; Collins, of Crystal River, Fla., said he thought 36 holes would be too tiring.

But it was Hebert who tired. After three straight rounds of 69, he zoomed to a final 75 to end with 282—tied for 12th.

Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., shot the tourney's best round of 66 to move into a tie for third at 279 with Paul Harney of Worcester, Mass., and Al Balding of Toronto, Canada.

Horvath, Dirks Score for Locals

An underdog Schenectady F.C. squad battled the favored Kingston Sport Club to a 2-2 tie in a Central New York League soccer match, Sunday before a good crowd at St. Mary's park in Kingston.

The locals scored in the first three minutes of play, when Tibor Horvath took the ball down after a fine stop by Hans Wolf to send the Kingston club ahead, 1-0. Excellent ball handling dominated the next several minutes and some rousing stops were credited to both goalies—Ingo Froelich of Kingston and Tolson of Schenectady.

With 27 minutes gone in the first half, Scabo of Schenectady took a pass from Becar and on a fine boot knotted the score at 1-1. A highly co-ordinated play sent Kingston ahead, 2-1, shortly after Scabo's goal. Benzenhoefer, Berg and Ulfing handled the ball before a pass to Dirks who sent the ball into the net. Dirks' goal came at the 38-minute mark. The remainder of the half was scoreless and the Sport Club walked off the field leading, 2-1 at the intermission.

Dorpians Gain Tie
Wolf and Bruckner turned in some brilliant passing in the second half for Kingston, but the forward line was unable to open up the defense. Then with eight minutes gone, Schenectady came down field with the ball and with fine deception were able to draw the goalie out of the net, and with a loose ball in front of the net, Megabitis was able to push it in to tie the score at 2-2.

Kingston came close to scoring on several occasions after the tie was set up but never quite made it. The Dorpian offense also taxed the defensive qualities of the Sport Club, but Vizvary, Walters, Benzenhoefer and Schlichting managed to keep the visitors in check.

The tie still keeps Kingston in second place in the Central League. Next week the locals travel to Albany, where both Kingston teams will play, the first game starting at 12:30.

The lineups:
Kingston: Schenectady GI—Froelich Tolson RFB—Walter Oser LFB—Benzenhoefer Obrecht RHB—Bruckner Kaiser CH—Vizvary Waloy LHB—Schlichting Nonas OR—Di Bella Herbay IR—Horvath Scabo CF—Wolf Becar IL—Ulfing Megabitis OL—Dirks Silrot

Reserves: Kingston—Berg, R. Schlichting; Schenectady—Johnson, Miller, Refree: Otto Kasabian, Albany.

In other matches in the league, Albany Sports Club shaded Troy Italians, 2-1, at Bleecker Stadium, while unbeaten Albany Athletic Club trounced the Poughkeepsie Hungarians, 6-1, at Poughkeepsie.

Bucs Topple Giants Again; Nats Defeat Chisox Twice

Clemente's Single In 11th Inning Stops McCormick

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The two hottest hitters in the National League are Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente and Milwaukee's Joe Adcock. Result: The league-leading Pirates and the third-place Braves are sizzling.

Clemente, who apparently regards the day lost when he doesn't get at least two hits, and score at least one run, rapped three safeties and scored twice Sunday as the Pirates downed San Francisco, 8-7 in 11 innings. The Puerto Rican flash scored the winning run on pinch-hitter Hal Smith's two-out, bases-loaded single off Mike McCormick after starting the rally with a double.

Widens Lead
The victory not only gave the Pirates the rubber of the three-game series but widened their lead over the second-place Giants to a game and a half. It was Pittsburgh's 10th triumph in the last 12 games.

Adcock, apparently fully recovered from the back injury that sidelined him from April 28 to May 14, cracked a two-run homer, his second in two days, to lead the Braves to a 3-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs. It was Milwaukee's third straight.

Los Angeles, paced by the hitting of Frank Howard and Norm Larker, outscored Philadelphia 9-6. St. Louis and Cincinnati split a doubleheader, the Cardinals coming from behind to win the first game 5-4 and the Reds taking the second 5-3.

Strategy Backfires

Managerial strategy backfired and beat the Giants. With the score tied 7-7 and one out in the last of the 11th, Clemente doubled and moved to third on an infield out. San Francisco Manager Bill Rigney ordered McCormick to give intentional passes to right-handed hitters Gino Cimoli and Bill Mazeroski to load the bases.

First, he figured there would be a play at any base. Second, he guessed that Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh would pinch hit for pitcher Elroy Face. That's what he wanted because Face, fourth Pirate pitcher, had retired nine Giants in succession.

Negray Pitches Toronto to First

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ron Negray, the Toronto Maple Leafs' unbeaten right-hander, is a prime mover in his team's musical chair game with the Buffalo Bisons for first place in the International League.

Negray won his fifth game Sunday as the Leafs ousted the Bisons from the top spot with a 4-2 victory in the first game of a doubleheader. The teams were scoreless with two out in the bottom of the eighth when Toronto's 6 p.m. Sunday curfew struck.

Toronto holds first place by 15 percentage points over the Bisons. Both have alternately held it throughout most of the early season.

Columbus knocked off Miami twice, 8-7 and 14-1, while Havana and Richmond split a twin bill. The Cubans won the nightcap, 7-4, after a 4-1 first-game victory by the Vees. A doubleheader between Rochester and Montreal was rained out.

Bloomington Man Patents Sighting Device for Rifles

A Bloomington sportsman — Peter Costa—has developed and patented a new sighting gimmick for rifles and shotguns known as the Accrosite.

Costa holds the United States and Canadian patent rights for the new device which was 15 months in the making from the blueprint to manufacturing and packaging. About 1500 of the Accrosites are now on the market.

The sight is developed by the Kirel company of Kingston. Besides Costa, the members are Donald Oakley of Colonial Roofing, Bob Smith of Krum and Canavan and Hubert Richter, attorney.

The special feature of the Accrosite, according to the inventor, is that it gives the hunter fast sighting from dawn to dusk and gives him a sort of microscopic look or tends to attach itself to the game.

Praised by Guerrieri

James Guerrieri, the prominent Tillson sharpshooter who is well known in the Ulster County trapshooting circuit, has given the Accrosite unqualified endorsement. He plans to use it from now on in county competition. In a test at the Glasco Gun Club, Guerrieri ran up the following scores: 25-22, 25-24, 25-25.

Another first claimed by the inventor is that Accrosite makes for safer shooting because a hunter wouldn't have to be squinting to line up a bead sight with a target. With it the hunter could concentrate on what he was shooting at. Also it breaks the color contrast, as all game takes on the color of their surroundings.

Several major gun firms and manufacturing houses are bidding for sales rights to the Accrosite, Costa said, but to date he has not made any commitments.

Elmira Man Rolls 715 at Buffalo

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—An Elmira man has rolled the sixth 700-plus triple of the New York State Men's Bowling Tournament, to tie for the scratch singles leadership.

Ed Frizzi rolled games of 244, 215 and 255 Sunday for a 715 mark. It matched the performance of Marty Piraino of Syracuse last week.

Ernie Skinner of Rochester turned in a 740 handicap score to take eighth place in the singles.

Former world's middleweight boxing champion Carmen Basilio, bowling in the team event, turned in scores of 187, 159 and 172.

Thomas Is Making Shambles Of the Seven-Foot High Jump

BOSTON (AP)—John Thomas is making a shambles of the seven-foot high jump which was only a dream four years ago.

Thomas sailed 7 feet, 1 1/4 inches Saturday to better the recognized world outdoor mark of 7-1 and top his smashing Penn Relays effort by one quarter of an inch.

Superbly self-disciplined for his 19 years, the Boston University sophomore has the inside track for the Olympic gold medal because of his control and attention to criticism.

Jumping against a stiff breeze at the New England Intercollegiate meet in Cambridge, Thomas did 7-1 1/4, then asked for the bar to be put at 7-1 1/2. When he cleared the latter height on his first try multiple measurements verified it actually was 7-1 1/4.

Not Prepared

Three times Thomas missed 7-2 1/2, then said, "I just wasn't mentally prepared for two of them and was too far away on the take-off for the other."

"What did I do wrong?" Thomas asked a friend.

"You weren't able to get any snap into your last three steps and your kick was lazy," came the reply.

"Thanks, Buddy," Thomas said with a mock frown—then added, "I need guys like you around. They keep me from becoming satisfied."

It was June, 1956, when Southern California's Charlie Dumas, then a Compton Junior College athlete, broke the seven foot barrier. Of the 27 seven-footers since then, Thomas owns 21 although his indoor jumps, including a 7-1 1/2 leap, aren't eligible for world recognition.

Syracuse Women Take Runnerup in Tourney

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP)—A Syracuse team has taken over as runnerup in the New York State Women's Bowling Tournament after rolling the second 2,700-plus score of the tourney.

Smorol's Restaurant posted a 2-718 Sunday to slip into second in the team event behind pace-setting Luscher's Tornados of Rochester. Rheingold of Orange, N. J., moved to third with 2,672.

It was the only change among the leaders in any event.

With only one weekend of play remaining, Betty Gajewski of Buffalo holds the singles lead with 632 and Phyllis Notaro, also of Buffalo, is the all-events kingpin with 1,828.

City Softball Loop Scheduled To Open Tonight

Weather permitting, action will start in the City Softball League tonight with four games scheduled.

Chez Emile will play Armstrong's Bar and Grill at Block Park; Hilltop and Rienza's will collide at Upper Hasbrouck; Nadler's will collide with Alart's at Lower Hasbrouck and Subway and Chappie's will play at the Stadium.

Games are scheduled to get underway at 6:15 p. m.

Takeaway

By JIMMY DEMARET

For pitch shots, the feet are nearly as far apart as the width of the shoulders.

The hips are opened slightly. The position of the shoulders conforms. The ball is played to the right of the stance's center point. The forward press sets the swing and body in motion. It provides for the moving, rhythmic beginning of the one-piece takeaway.

As indicated by the arrow in the accompanying illustration, the lateral turn or pivot is made possible by the right knee's give toward the center of the stance. This brings about the shift of the weight to the right foot and the turning of the hips and shoulders.

At the completion of the backswing, the clubface has opened in perfect relation to the hips, shoulders, arms and hands.

A pause amounting to a rhythmic poising here can be effective in preparing to unleash the downswing.

Senator Frost Snaps His Jinx At Roosevelt

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Senator Frost apparently has overcome his Roosevelt Raceway jinx and seems virtually assured of an invitation to compete in Roosevelt's second International Trot in August.

The first two times the 5-year-old gelding raced at Roosevelt he finished first, but was disqualified each time. This unpleasantness seemingly is far behind him now as he demonstrated Saturday night why he is regarded as the best trotter around.

Driven by Dick Buxton, the son of Victory Song-Spence came home an easy winner in the $27,531 mile and one-quarter U.S. Harness Writers' Trot that headlined the closing night of the Roosevelt spring meeting.

The spotlight in the sulky sport shifts tonight from Long Island to Yonkers, N.Y., with the opening of a 60-night spring meeting at Yonkers Raceway.

Stanley Dancer's Roya Direct is the 5-2 morning line favorite for the feature inaugural pace.

At Buffalo Raceway, Levi Harner, who drove five winners the previous Saturday, won the $3,000 invitational pace with Tar Boy. The feature trot at the Hamburg, N.Y., track went to Torrence Hanover.

Jordan to Defend Title on Friday

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Welterweight champion Don Jordan, a loser in his last two fights, risks his title against fiery Cuban Benny (Kid) Paret, unbeaten in his last five bouts, in a 15-rounder at Las Vegas Friday night.

The 10 p. m. bout at the new convention center will be broadcast and telecast (NBC) nationally.

This could be the end of the line for the 25-year-old champion from Los Angeles unless he regains form of a year ago. Last December, Jordan was knocked cold in the fourth round of a non-title bout in Buenos Aires by Federico Thompson. Then only last Monday he was outpointed by Candy McFarland, an unranked young welter. Jordan's record is 47-13, including 15 kayos.

Paret, 25, is a strong, fast-punching, 147-pounder with loads of stamina. He never has been stopped.

Ole Archie Moore shakes off his ring barnacles in a non-title ten-round return bout with German heavyweight Willi Besmanoff at Indianapolis Wednesday night. The bout will be telecast (ABC, 10 p. m.).

Battle to the Wire Beckert's Trucking Ferraro Mixer Champs

Bill Beckert hit the jackpot for the second time as a bowling sponsor when his Beckert's Trucking squad won the thrilling Ferraro Mixed League pennant race by a one-game margin over Nadler Motors. The league is the largest in the city with 22 teams.

Beckert's kieglers won 61 1/2 games and lost 43 1/2 in the 105-game marathon. Members of the championship team besides the sponsor are Ed Ashdown, Ray Ashdown, Phyllis Sior and Mary Donnelly.

Individual average leaders were George Magley with 181.11 for 102 games in the men's division and Beverly Van Voorhis, 153.26 for 84 sets. Amy Miller averaged 151.80 in 102 games. Ray Ashdown was runnerup in the men's division with 172.37.

Magley won solo honors for the men with 278 and 658. Flo Shaw's 232 and Beverly Van Voorhis' 586 paced the women. Team records were the 2451 by Hy-Way Pharmacy and 885 by DeLuca Cleaners. Handicap records were 938 and 2626 by Lowe's Garage.

Mercury's the better low-price car and you can prove it!

ADD UP MERCURY'S EXTRA VALUES: Just stop in at our showroom and see the proof firsthand. Open the front door of a Mercury—it's up to 5 inches wider than other low-price cars so you can get in and out that much easier. Slide into the front seat. Notice how the instrument panel has been moved far forward. What other car gives you this feeling of spaciousness? Now accept our invitation to go on a private demonstration. Notice the steady, silent smoothness of the ride. That's because Mercury has a 7-to-8-inch longer wheelbase than other low-price cars—is up to 494 pounds heavier, and has far more sound-proofing all-weather insulation.

Try the brakes. They're up to 26% larger in a Mercury. Notice the view. Mercury's windshield and windows give you up to 21% greater visibility than other low-price cars. Now, for the best news of all, just keep on reading...

COMPARE MERCURY'S LOW PRICES: prices start $63 to $66 below even the lowest-priced V-8 powered Plymouth Fury or Chevrolet Impala!

And we're not talking about a "stripped" Mercury. This price comparison is based on a deluxe-appointed Mercury Monterey with luxurious nylon interior and thick wall-to-wall carpeting. So why settle for less? Get all your money can buy with Mercury—the better low-price car.

Bingo Ruled Out At Dutchess Fair

Rhinebeck firemen will not be permitted to conduct bingo games at the Dutchess County fair this summer, according to Thomas Dorr, State Lottery Control Commission investigator.

Dorr, Democratic candidate for sheriff will inform the firemen of the commission ruling in his address at a meeting of the Rhinebeck Fire Department at 8 o'clock tonight in the firehouse. He said the firemen will be permitted to conduct bingo games at their scheduled bazaar under certain conditions. Dorr pointed out that the bingo law stipulates that a charge of one dollar may be made for an evening or program of bingo regardless how many games are played.

Veterinarian Retires, Cancels $50,000 Bills

ELMIRA, N. Y. (AP) — A 92-year-old veterinarian, just retired, says he's going to forget the $50,000 he estimates his former clients owe him.

"As near as I can figure . . . people must owe me all of $50,000," said Dr. John Johnson. "But I don't expect to see any of that money again. Might as well forget it."

Johnson announced the cancellation of the bills in a classified advertisement Saturday in The Elmira Star-Gazette. The notice wished his former clients "all good and thanks."

Johnson, who retired last week, said he has been a veterinarian for 76 years. He lives in nearby Horseheads.

Salvation Army Week Observed By Local Corps

The 80th anniversary of the establishment of The Salvation Army in the United States will be observed during National Salvation Army Week, May 22-29.

The Kingston Corps will join in the observance with special programs and services.

The celebration actually began Saturday evening with a concert at the George Washington School by the Lehigh Corps Band, Philadelphia, Pa. The band also participated in services at the Old Dutch Church Sunday morning and at New Paltz High School in the afternoon.

Tuesday evening the local Army band will present a concert at local headquarters on North Front Street at 7:30.

On Wednesday the Women's Home League will pay tribute to members of the league 80 years of age and over.

On Thursday a Mother and Daughter banquet will be held at the local headquarters. Friday evening a special open-service meeting will be held on Wall Street and on Sunday, May 29, at 7:45 p. m. there will be an "old timers" meeting at local headquarters.

From a pioneer band of one man and seven women who landed at the Battery, New York City, 80 years ago, The Salvation Army has now grown to a force in this country of more than 5,000 officers who are assisted by about 12,000 employees.

Throughout the United States today The Salvation Army has 1,109 corps and 165 outposts (equivalent of local churches) and 7,275 other centers of operation, including 6,537 service extension units. The latter provide Salvation Army service in rural areas.

The Salvation Army has been active in Kingston since 1892.

Deaths

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LYON, France (AP) — Prof. Jean Thibaud, 59, one of France's leading nuclear physicists, died Saturday night after a heart attack.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Alfred W. Brewster, 78, former Atlanta Journal cartoonist, died Saturday night.

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—John E. Curtiss, 68, former national vice commander of the American Legion and longtime active in state politics and civic affairs, died Sunday.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Irving B. Hexter, 62, president of the Industrial Publishing Corp., publishers of nine magazines and four directories, died Sunday after a heart attack.

NEW YORK (AP)—George Tyler Townley, 58, a specialist in newspaper laws who represented the Publishers Assn. of New York City, died Saturday after a heart attack.

CBA Merchants To Hear Yallum On City Planning

Edwin Ford vice president of Central Businessmen's Association announced today that Elmore Yallum, chairman of the City Planning Committee will address the group on city planning progress 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, at Tony's Pizzeria, 582 Broadway.

The speaker's topic will tie in closely with the efforts of the Association for tighter zoning of the central area.

Highlighting the business portion of the meeting will be the presentation of "Treasure Chest," a new sales idea that is designed to bring thousands of shoppers into the area. Tony Bell, chairman of the promotion and publicity committee will provide the details and also outline plans for the Christmas season.

Discussion of the recent legislation raising the parking meter rates will be headed by James Kohut, chairman of the legislative committee. A number of members have expressed opposition to the change, and it is expected that the association will pass a resolution expressing the majority opinion.

Harry Rigby, chairman of the constitution committee will present the proposed amendments for a vote by the membership. The proposals will streamline the constitution and enable the association to operate more effectively to keep business in Kingston.

Other items of business include committee reports, a plan to control donation soliciting, and a renewal of discussion on parking lots.

All members are urged to bring guests and prospective members to this meeting which will be one of the most interesting of the season.

Roscoe Mishap Fatal

ROSCOE, N. Y. (AP)—Edward C. Tangora, 21, of North Haledon, N. J., was injured fatally today when an automobile he was driving and another car crashed head-on on Route 17.

Tangora died a short time later in Roscoe Community Hospital.

University Head Raps Modern Advertising

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Modern advertising is giving young people the idea that hard work is something vulgar which nice folks manage to avoid, a university president has charged.

Dr. Willis M. Tate, of Southern Methodist University, told the annual meeting of the YMCA's National Council Saturday that advertising's emphasis on ease and comfort represents a severe indictment of American culture. "The zenith of success portrayed by our advertisements is a man who is reclining in a soft chair with a beautiful girl waiting on him," Tate said.

Five Hurt Here In Two-Car Crash

Five persons were injured in a two-car mishap at 12:20 a. m. today at the junction of Broadway and Albany Avenue.

Listed as injured were three Woodstock women: Pansy Drake Copeland, 49, left leg and elbow; Frances Trinka, 26, right knee; and Baird Kiki Godvin, 33, forehead; Joan Bennett, 19, Route 5, Webster, left leg; and Webster Jerry Henderson, 26, 218 Catherine Street, left knee and right arm.

Police said the mishap resulted of apparent confusion over right-of-way at the intersection, and noted that the cars met "almost head-on." The one was driven by Henderson, and the other by Mrs. Godvin. Henderson was headed east on Albany Avenue and the other west on Broadway.

The Woodstock women were treated at Kingston Hospital, and the report said, the others were to be treated by doctors. Officers Frank Stip and Garvin Fisher investigated.

2 Men Are Found Above Ceiling in Kansas Market

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Police and two burglars played hide-and-seek for 2½ hours in a supermarket Sunday night before the officers finally cornered the pair above false ceiling.

A telephone call to headquarters that someone was in the store brought a horde of policeman and Duke, a German shepherd trained in police work.

Patrolman Arthur Felts said he had no more than arrived when he spotted a man crawling along an aisle.

"When he came around the corner of a checkout stand, I had a pistol on him when he looked up," said Felts.

That ended the game for D. K. Williams, 22, an ex-convict.

Duke trotted up and down the aisles, nose to the floor. Again and again, he returned to a ladder in the rear of the store. The assistant store manager, Ed Ritterhoff, arrived. He told police that there was a lot of space between the ceiling and the roof.

Policemen then flushed out Leo D. Welsh, 27. The ceiling space was divided into sections, and it took some hunting to find Walter Elwell, 25.

All three were booked for investigation of burglary.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Polio Clinic Set Thursday Evening

B'nai B'rith Women's Chapter of Kingston and St. Mary's Parent-Teacher Association of Saugerties are again co-sponsoring the third polio clinic in Saugerties this week.

Mrs. Harold Beller and Mrs. Ronald Wolford of B'nai B'rith and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bunyar and Mrs. Ann Karashay of St. Mary's P-TA have set Thursday as the date at St. Mary's School, Cedar Street, Saugerties between the hours of 7 to 9 p. m.

Dr. Hugh S. Chidester of Saugerties has again volunteered his services to administer the polio injections. He will be assisted by Mrs. Bernard Rinaldi, Mrs. Richard Hunter, Mrs. Stanley Wyman and Mrs. David Hildebrandt, registered nurses who have also volunteered their services.

All residents in the Town of Saugerties between the ages of three months and 40 years are urged to receive their first, second or third shots. All persons who received their first injection at our first clinic on July 16 and second injections at second clinic on October 1 should receive their third injection. No booster shots will be given at the clinic.

On the committee for St. Mary's P-TA are Mrs. Douglas Coons, Mrs. Richard Maines, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, Edward Flanagan and Richard Rightmyer. Committee for B'nai B'rith includes Mrs. Max Goldberg, Mrs. David Lesser, Mrs. Abraham Greenbaum and Mrs. Arthur Schiff.

The Kingston Chapter of National Polio Foundation is donating the vaccine. All other materials will again be supplied by the Ulster County Health Department.

Turns Over Vehicle On 212. Escapes Unhurt

A resident of Blue Mountain miraculously escaped injury when his 1954 convertible failed to negotiate a turn early Sunday morning, turned over at the cloverleaf interchange and came to rest upside down near the motel property, state police reported.

William H. Whelan Jr., 28, of RFD 1, Box 101 reported at Saugerties Police Headquarters that he had turned over his car at the intersection of Route 32 and 212 at the Cloverleaf.

According to Kingston state police report Whelan was traveling south on Route 32 and failed to negotiate a right turn into Route 212. The car continued across both lanes of Route 212, turned over and came to rest upside down in an open area near the Cloverleaf Motel. The car was demolished, state police said. The accident occurred at 3 a. m.

Fined $50 After 90 MPH Chase on Rt. 9W

Charles Bold, 42, of 56 Spring Street, Catskill was fined $50 by Saugerties Town Justice of the Peace Glenford Myers Sunday morning following a 90-mile-per-hour chase along Route 9W toward Saugerties.

Bold was arrested for speeding by Trooper Joseph L. Ventriglia of Kingston state police in the village. Trooper Ventriglia said he radioed ahead to Patrolman Edward Sweeney to set up a roadblock, however the speeder was apprehended before he reached that point.

Boy Injured in Fall

William Hardick, 11 of Barclay Street was injured Sunday afternoon in a bicycle mishap and was taken to Benedictine Hospital.

The boy was riding down Burt Street, fell from his bicycle and received severe abrasions of the head, face, arms, and a deep cut over his left eye, village police reported.

Patrolman Gordon Keeley said Dr. B. W. Gifford was called and ordered the boy taken to Benedictine Hospital. The mishap occurred at 3:25 p. m.

A fire which may be of incendiary origin damaged an unoccupied inn in the village of Woodstock Saturday afternoon.

Kingston state police are investigating possible arson in a blaze in the Town House Hotel which burned some furniture and damaged a floor.

The fire was extinguished by the Woodstock Fire Department. The hotel has been broken into several times during the past couple of years. Trooper Charles Teelon, BCI, is investigating.

Tidal Waves Are Cause of Deaths, Many Injured

HONOLULU (AP) — A series of four tidal waves slammed into the Hawaiian Islands today, leaving two known dead, and an unknown number of injured and widespread damage.

Hilo, the islands' second largest city, suffered the worst damage from the crushing waves, an aftermath of devastating earthquakes in South America.

Both deaths were reported at Hilo, many were reported injured and an unknown number were trapped in flooded buildings.

The biggest wave — topping six feet — hit at 1:05 a. m. (6:05 a. m. EST) sending a wall of water into the Hilo theater and plunging the city in darkness when it shorted out the city's power station.

Hilo, with a population of 25,000 bore the brunt of a tidal wave in 1946 when 159 persons were killed and 163 injured.

The first of today's waves struck at 12:25 a. m.

On Hawaii Island, the alarm was sounded at 8:30 p. m.—1:30 a. m. EST.

Residents and tourists in Honolulu's plush Waikiki Beach resort area and other low-lying coastal zones were evacuated to higher ground.

Tourists, some in pajamas, were moved out of the swank hotels.

Evacuation of coastal areas in Hilo and other coastal towns was completed by 10 p. m. Hilo is some 200 miles southeast of Honolulu.

Finch Trial Hinges On Delay Asked By His Paramour

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Retrial of the Finch murder case starts today — unless the handsome, wealthy surgeon or his pretty paramour wins a delay.

Grant B. Cooper, attorney for Dr. R. Bernard Finch, 42, said he would ask that the new hearing be moved elsewhere because of wide publicity the case has received here. A similar request failed at the first trial.

Red-haired Carole Tregoff, 24, charged with murder and conspiracy as is her physician lover, has a motion pending before the State Supreme Court seeking to disqualify Superior Court Judge Leroy Dawson on grounds of prejudice.

At trial No. 1 a jury of five men and seven women deliberated nearly 40 hours and then announced it could not decide whether the lovers are guilty of murdering the doctor's socialite wife, Barbara Jean Finch, 36.

The doctor contends she was slain accidentally in a violent struggle over a pistol.

Girl Swallows Pill Found in Old House

A 10-year-old Ruby girl was taken to a local hospital Sunday evening when it was discovered that she had swallowed a pill which she found in an old house in the neighborhood.

The girl, Valerie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Stanton, showed no signs of sickness, it was reported by Kingston state police.

The druggist who made the pills was contacted to see if the pills might be harmful.

Stuffs Stone in Nostril

Daniel Steinhilber, 2½, of 482 Wilbur Avenue, learned the hard way Saturday that stones are not for snuffing. The child was rushed to the Benedictine Hospital after he had stuffed a stone up a nostril so that it could not be removed at home. Officers Gerald Every and Thomas Coffey were dispatched to the house after police headquarters was notified at 3:25 p. m., and took him to the hospital.

Dense Clouds Are Slowing Up Big Mountain Rescue

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — An angry spring sky and a layer of dense clouds thousands of feet thick held the key today to the successful completion of this state's greatest mountain rescue effort.

A storm which sent winds up to 100 knots swirling around the continent's highest mountain, towering Mt. McKinley kept the rescue machinery at a complete standstill. Heavy clouds completely obscured the mountain from 2,000 feet up.

Still to be removed from McKinley were the Whittaker twins of Seattle, Jim and Lou. Suffering slight frostbite, they were believed in no danger. Only the weather prevented aircraft from picking them up from their campsite at the 10,200 foot level.

With the Whittakers were a score or more of seasoned mountain climbers, hurried on McKinley's icy slopes after the Whittakers and two companions, John Day and Pete Schoening fell 400 feet down an icy slope at the 18,000-foot level last Tuesday night.

Day, 51, a wealthy rancher from Central Point, Ore., was evacuated from the 17,000-foot level Friday night by a daring helicopter pilot, Link Luckett, who took his craft 1,200 feet above what had been considered its top operating limit.

Luckett, 32, pushed his small chopper beyond its range again Saturday to remove Schoening, 31, of Seattle.

Another amazing aerial rescue was made Friday by bush pilot Don Sheldon of Talkeetna.

Flying a light plane, Sheldon, a veteran of other air rescues, landed at the 14,000 foot-level on McKinley and whisked to safety Helga Bading of Anchorage.

Mrs. Bading, 30, was a member of an Anchorage climbing party which went to the assistance of Day, Schoening and the Whittakers. She suffered mountain sickness, a condition brought on by lack of oxygen and for a time was in critical condition.

The massive rescue effort also had a dark side. A pilot and his passenger, while attempting to airdrop supplies, perished when their plane suddenly dove into the ice and snow.
